School Budget Is Passed by 253 Votes; Godfrey, Clearwater & Robbins Elected

Voters in the Tuesday School Board election approved the 1992-93 school budget by a vote of 1,176 to 923. Borough voters supported the $29,712,033 budget by a margin of 375 to 215. The margin was closer in the Township, with 801 voting for the budget and 708 rejecting it.

Incumbent Richerd Godfrey was elected as a Borough reprosentative to the Board of Education. He defeated Ricardo Skipworth by a vote of 428 to 156.

In the Township, where six candidates were running for two seats, victory went to John Clearwater, with 801 votes, and David Robbins, with 654 votes.

Merrill Price received 368 votes, Todd Tieger, 481, Wanda McEwen, 255, and Sharon Muzyk, 341. Joel Cooper received four write-in votes.

The election followed a series of fractious budget meetings during which Board candidates and members of the public objected to various parts of the budget. Administrative salaries, in particular, raised a considerable amount of ire.

Board President Joel Cooper, a consistent supporter of the administration, became the focus of increasing community dissatisfaction. He withdrew from the School Board race in March stating that, "a significant part of the community no longer trusts the good will of the School Board for trying to do what is best for kids."

Voter turnout was 12.7 percent in the Borough and 20.7 percent in the Township. These figures were very similar to those of last year, when the school budget was defeated by 43 votes.

The three winning candidates were the only ones running independently. All the others were supported either by The Robeson Group or The Guild.

Mr. Godfrey, who hes three children in the Princeton schools, is a partner in the law firm of Hannoch Weismen.

Mr. Clearwater served 27 years in the United States Navy and retired in 1984 with the rank of Captain. Three of these years were spent as the Naval Academy's senior resources manager.

Mr. Robbins, the father of a fourth-grade student at Riverside, is a research mathematician at the Center for Communications Research in Princeton.

"I think the entire process was very constructive,' said Mr. Godfrey. All the candidates had good things to say. Mr. Robbins said he eppreciated all the help of his supporters. "I hope I can live up to their expectations."

"I am very pleased et the results," said Mr. Clearwater. "Now the job is to get the job done."

All three candidates were elected to full three-year terms. They will serve on the Board with current members Gerald Groves, Deborah Curtis, Corinne Kyle, Ruth Bronzan, and Patty Soffronoff.

The Board has scheduled an organization meeting for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Valley Road conference room, when it will elect the Board president and vice president for the coming year.

The approved school budget consists of $28,692,883 in current expenditure and $1,019,150 in debt service.

9.5¢ of 11¢ Township Tax Increase Attributable to Griggs Farm Deficit

Township Committee introduced the 1992 Township municipal budget on Monday night, as it was required to do by the state, but without benefit of knowing how much state aid will be allotted to the Township. A public hearing has been set for Monday, May 11, before final adoption.

In introducing the $16 million budget, Committee also set the municipal tax rate at 85 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This is an 11 cent increase over the 1991 rate of 74 cents. The major part of this increase, 9.5 cents, is attributable to the deficit incurred in the Griggs Farm affordable housing project.

For a home assessed at $100,000, the 1992 municipal taxes will be $850, an increase of $110 over last year. The recommended sewer rate is $4.98 per 100 cubic feet. This is 43 cents higher than the 1991 rate of $4.55 per cubic feet.

The capital budget for 1992 totals $981,026, down substantially from previous years. But capital projects per se have not been reduced far enough for some members of the 1992 Township Committee. In work session Committee began reviewing road projects that have been approved in principle by previous administrations but which the Republican majority on this Committee questions the wisdom of continuing to fund in the current economic climate.

Efforts End to Merge Borough, Township Police

Efforts to explore the merger of the Borough and Township Police Departments, begun two years ago by Borough Councilman Mark Freda, appear to have come to a halt.

In July of 1990, Mr. Freda polled members of Borough Council and Township Committee for their reaction to a possible police merger. By December of that year, both municipalities had agreed to hold meetings to examine the possibility of establishing one Police Department for the two Princetons.

Last week, Mr. Freda said it seemed clear that the Township was not interested in merging the two departments. "The Township is well into the hiring process for a new chief. It would seem to be a fairly direct message that they're not

'Applewood House' Damaged by Tuesday Fire

The white brick "Applewood House" mansion at 644 Rosedale Road, Lawrence Township, currently being offered for sale for $1.9 millon (see page 64), was damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Lt. Tom Weber of the Lawrence Township police reported that there was heavy fire damage to the third floor and roof area and heavy smoke and water damage to the first and second floors. The only person in the home at the time was a maid who was not injured.

Completed just at the beginning of the Depression, the stately home is owned by David and Elizabeth Schafer.

A fire alarm was sounded at 11:21. When Lawrence Township firemen directed by Fire Chief Kevin Reading arrived at the scene they saw white smoke coming from the southeast corner of the house. The maid was evacuated.

A painter for a painting contractor who was working on the house told police that he had been using a torch to burn paint from dormers on the southeast corner of the house. He had been working from 10:15 until 10:30 but had quit a few minutes later when it started to rain.

Firemen left the scene around 4:30. Although the cause of the fire is not suspicious, the County arson investigator was notified and investigators were still at the scene late Tuesday afternoon to continue their investigation and to guard against any possible rekindling.

Police Merger

interested in combining the two departments."

Mr. Freda said he did not think the Borough's rejection last year of a study of the possible consolidation of the two municipalities had made any difference in Township Committee's point of view on the police merger.

His opinion appeared to differ from that expressed by Township Mayor Dick Woodbridge, who said that the Township was getting a mixed message. "After the consolidation effort was not passed, it didn't encourage me that the merger of any department would be popular."

He added that, although the idea might have merit, "it would be awfully hard to sell at the present time. The level of enthusiasm [on Township Committee] for a full merger isn't very high."

Mayor Woodbridge said some particular departmental functions might, however, be appropriate for consolidation, such as the dispatching operation.

Borough Mayor Marvin Reed expressed discouragement. "At a time when everybody is urging municipalities to consolidate sharing of services in order to make significant savings," he said, "the initiative the Borough took in this regard hasn't brought any real response."

Mayor Reed added that, if there is any area of municipal services where real financial savings and improvement of service could be made at no extra cost, it would be in the area of the police. "Otherwise," he said, "the Township will have to go ahead and build a whole new police headquarters."

Over the past 14 months, several meetings were held among representatives of the governing bodies and the two police departments to discuss whether a merger would be advisable. Even though it is clear that Township Committee would not support a merger at this time, Mayor Woodbridge said he would be willing to attend further meetings.

He also believes that the selection of a new chief to replace Jack Petrone, who has announced his retirement, is not a critical factor in the discussions. "Even if we were to merge, it wouldn't be until the longer term," he said. "One shouldn't let the selection of the chief in the Township make such a difference in the discussion."

Borough Sues SBRSA Over Franchise Vote

Claiming that the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority should have obtained the consent of two-thirds of its member municipalities before deciding to extend sewer service to two areas of Plainsboro, Princeton Borough filed a lawsuit Friday in Mercer County Superior Court asking that the expansion be declared invalid.

At issue are sections of the sewer service contract with member municipalities that specify how connections are to be made to the Stony Brook system. In early February, a month after the three-year ban on new sewer connections was lifted, the South Brunswick representative to SBRSA, Louis Goetting, requested that the SBRSA's sewer service district be expanded to include two separate tracts in Plainsboro Township.

The two tracts are the former Walker Gordon Farms and the former Princeton Nurseries, lands now owned by Princeton University. According to the complaint filed by Michael J. Herbert, Borough attorney, on behalf of the Borough, since the two tracts are not within the SBRSA sewer district, authorizing resolutions had to be adopted by four of the six participant municipalities to approve expansion of the district.

That view is not shared by David Goldberg, attorney for SBRSA, who wrote a long letter to John Gaston, executive director of the SBRSA after Borough Council objected to the manner in which the approval was granted. Councilman David Goldfarb, the Borough representative to the SBRSA, voted for including the two tracts, but only after a motion he and John Werth, the Township representative, made to table action on the request was denied. He reported the action to Borough Council, which expressed opposition to the action because the SBRSA had failed to seek consent of member municipalities.

In a long letter to SBRSA executive director John Gaston, Mr. Goldberg takes the position that the two areas of Plainsboro are a part of South Brunswick's sewer franchise area; that South Brunswick and Plainsboro have agreed that sewage originating in these areas should be delivered by the South Brunswick system to the SBRSA; and that the Wastewater Management plans for South Brunswick and Plainsboro Townships specifically contemplate that sewage originating in these areas will be processed by the River Road plant.

He reviews the history of how the South Brunswick-Plainsboro franchise area was established in 1977 and describes the amendments to it over the past 15 years, none of which required municipal consent in the view of the participating municipalities. He notes that there were two separate instances where approval of the member municipalities was obtained in connection with providing of services, but neither were made on behalf of a participant.

Contract Not Ambiguous

One involved the construction of the sludge cake receiving facility and the other involved a housing development in Hopewell with malfunctioning septic systems. Mr. Goldberg further maintains that the provisions of the service contract are not ambiguous and that there is a history spanning 15 years in which the members have followed the same interpretation.

"There has been acceptance of the interpretation that municipal consent is not required," he writes. "For this reason, there is no basis to support a departure from the practical interpretation which the parties themselves have given to the provisions of the service contract."

Borough officials said last Thursday that they hoped the matter could be settled before it gets to court, but they said it was necessary to file a complaint within the time frame allowed to preserve their options. Council President Mark Freda said the purpose of the suit is to get the SBRSA to clarify the process for approving expansion of the franchise service area and to evaluate the financial impact of such an expansion.

Township Committee has not given any indication of wanting to join the Borough in the lawsuit.

Borough Tax Rate Going Up 13%

The Borough municipal tax rate will go up 10 cents for 1992, to 90 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This is a 13 percent increase over 1991.

Borough residents will also pay $1.79 in school tax, six cents more than last year; and $1.03 in County tax, up a penny from 1991.

In addition, a two cent tax will be assessed for the County Green Acres tax. The sewer fee will go down from $30 per 1,000 cubic feet in 1991 to $28 in 1992.

The total tax bill for Borough residents in 1992 will be $3.74 per $100 of assessed valuation, a five percent increase from last year's rate of $3.57.

The Borough will raise $3,936,021 from local taxation, up from $3,500,085 in 1991. The total Borough budget for 1992 is $13,085,000, a small increase from last year's $12,900,000 budget.

Additional Borough revenues are derived from a number of sources, including court fees, parking meters, interest on investments, the franchise and gross receipts tax, and State municipal tax relief.

Most of the increase in the Borough tax rate is attributable to the fact that the Borough has gone to a fixed schedule of debt payment for its road and street work, explained Mayor Marvin Reed. Last December, he said, Council went to a $10 million bond issue, which locked in a 5.6 percent interest rate.

"This obligated us to keep our payments on a regular basis," he said. "Now we're doing what everyone says the Federal Government should do — paying off our debts."

The Mayor pointed out that, for the second year in a row, the Borough has experienced a net decrease in assessed valuation, from $439,047,847 in 1991 to $437,435,756 in 1992. He said this created a lower base from which to raise money and required a slightly higher tax rate to raise the same amount of money.

Borough Council is expected to introduce the budget at its Thursday night meeting.

Bank Suspect Nabbed By Police, FBI Agent

An FBI bank robbery suspect was arrested in Princeton Friday night.

Borough police were alerted around 9:50 by the FBI that the suspect might be in this area. They provided a description of the suspect and his car. A short time later, Ptl. Robert Shoblock noticed a car matching the description on Stockton Street. The officer, aided by other Borough police members and an FBI agent, stopped the car on Library Place. A computer check with the National Crime Information Center came up a hit and the driver, Clarence Todd Stewart Jr., 27, of Trenton, was taken to police headquarters, processed and turned over to the FBI.

A 22-year-old female companion from Springfield, Vt., detained briefly at the scene, later came to the police station. She was not charged.

"There was no crime in the Borough," said Capt. Peter Hanley. The suspect was arrested on the basis of the FBI warrant and the NCIC hit.

Suspect May Be Charged

Meanwhile, it was revealed last week that another bank suspect, a 35-year-old painter from Stafford, Pa., Michael Lyons, may be responsible for the February 18 holdup at the Core/States New Jersey National Bank branch robbery on Nassau Street. Lyons is currently in custody in Allentown, Pa.

FBI authorities say Lyons may be responsible for as many as 14 bank robberies in the region but they declined to say which ones.

Clean-up Week in the Township

Spring clean-up in the Township will begin on Monday, April 20, and is expected to last three weeks.

The Public Works Department has divided the Township into three geographic districts and one week has been allotted each district for pick-up. During the week of April 20, the northeast area, bounded by Route 206 on the west and the Borough line and Route 27 on the south, will be targeted.

During the second week, beginning Monday, April 27, municipal pick-up will be confined to the southeast area, bounded by Alexander Street to the west and the Borough line and Route 27 to the north. The western district, bounded by Route 206, the Borough line and Alexander Street to the west, has been scheduled for the third week, beginning Monday, May 4.

Tree branches and twigs are the only items that will be picked up. These should be placed at the edge of the road, but not in the street.

Tree branches should be securely tied in bundles no larger than four feet in length and one foot in diameter. They should be put out the weekend before your area is scheduled for collection.

Household items, such as furniture and appliances, should not be put out and will not be picked up. Nor will grass clippings, metal, firewood, logs, leaves or garden debris, such as plants and yard clippings or anything with roots.

These items may be disposed at the Sewer Operating Committee landfill on River Road. A permit is required from the SOC office at Borough Hall, and a fee will be assessed depending on loading capacity of the vehicle. Contractors and gardeners are not permitted to dump at the landfill.

Township residents may also contact their garbage hauler to arrange for a special pick-up. They can also compost organic materials in their own back yards. Material on composting is available in the Township Clerk's office.

Residents are subject to a fine for failure to comply with the Township's clean-up regulations.

In the robbery here, a white male wearing sunglasses handed a clerk a threatening note saying he had a gun. He escaped with $562. Lyons is also believed to have committed another bank robbery four days later in North Brunswick.

On the morning of February 22nd, a suspect wearing the same type clothes and sunglasses entered the Brunswick Bank and Trust Company, handed the teller a note and made off with an undetermined amount of money. According to investigators, the notes were quite similiar.

Borough police have not yet been able to question Lyons since the FBI is conducting the investigation.

Check Passing Fails At PSC Bank Branch

An attempt by three women to cash a $989.32 payroll check last week at the Chemical Bank branch in the Princeton Shopping Center failed.

According to Lt. Anthony Gaylord, three black females, 25 to 30, all neatly dressed, drove up and attempted to cash the check, which had been drawn on a closed out account in Roosevelt. Unknown to them, banks in this area had been warned by other banks about the account.

The teller took the check and along with the false driver's license and identification which were offered. When she refused to cash it, however, the three suspects drove off in a four-door, white, older Chrysler Corporation model car.

HV Freshman Is Killed By Freight Train Sunday

A 15-year-old Hopewell Valley High School freshman, George Anthony Cox, was killed instantly around 10:30 Sunday morning when he was struck by a Conrail train. The victim apparently had been playing a deadly game of "chicken" with three other youths.

According to Hopewell Lt. Michael Chipowsky, the engineer of the train said that he saw the four youths on the tracks but could not stop in time. The train was going 47 miles an hour at the time and struck the victim a glancing blow, hurling his body to the edge of a gravel grading where the tracks cross Bedens Brook near the Hopewell Amwell Road. The engineer, who was not identified, told police he sounded his horn and applied his brakes but for some reason the victim did not get out of the way.

With the victim were three of his teenage friends, Benjamin Lenz and John and Kevin Jackson — all of Hopewell. They were walking on the tracks north of the Borough when the weekly, 62-car "Tropicana Express," loaded with orange juice cartons and bound for a Jersey City warehouse, roared by.

The train engineer told a resident who lives on a road along side the tracks, "They were playing chicken," seeing who would be the last to jump off the tracks.

The victim's mother, Donna Fisher, lives in Ewing but he was living with his grandmother, Ruth Downs, who said she knew the boys often played at the tracks. "If I told him once, I told him a thousand times, 'Stay away from the tracks,' " she said. At the time of the accident he was staying for the weekend with Lenz, who lives near the accident site.

The victim, who was called Anthony by all his friends, is survived by a sister, Christina, a senior at Hopewell Valley High, his stepfather, Rodney Fisher Downs, and Downs' mother, Dora Wilmer. His father, George Cox, lives in Pemberton Township.

Tenure Vote Postponed For New Board Action

A tenure vote, which had been tentatively scheduled for this past Monday night's Board of Education meeting, has been postponed until later this month. The Board's April 28 business meeting is the likely time for the vote, which will be held in closed session. The new-

Square Egg Hunt

Kids ages 3 to 8 are invited to join the fun on Saturday, April 18, as the Princeton Recreation Department and Palmer Square present the second annual Great "Square" Egg Hunt.

The entertainment begins at noon with springtime music and songs by children's folk singer, Pat McKinley, followed by the egg hunt. The finder of the "square" egg will win a free family pass to the Great Adventure amusement park. Each child will have the opportunity to win additional prizes from E.N. Lodge Toy Store, Thomas Sweet, Candico, and Burger King. The event will be followed by a special visit from Bugs Bunny.

This event is free; however space is limited and reservations are required. Please register by Wednesday, April 15. To make reservations, call the Princeton Recreation Department at 921-9480.

ly elected School Board, however, could decide to schedule a special meeting on this.

The School Board must decide on the granting of tenure before the end of April.

Tenure decisions are due for five administrators and eight teachers. The administrators are, Marylu Coviello, Princeton High School principal; Owen Snyder, PHS assistant principal; Leslie Turbeville, John Witherspoon assistant principal; John Kazmark, Community Park principal; and Robert Rader. Mr. Rader has already been granted tenure as business administrator. He is now up for tenure as assistant superintendent.

The teachers are, Robert Loughran, Princeton High School; Donald Corr and Sally Glogoff, John Witherspoon; Agnes Golding, Riverside; and Wendy Carlucci, Muriel Lewis, Katherine Patten, and Joanne Ryan, Littlebrook.

Two Cyclists Struck By Cars Last Week

Neither of two bicyclists struck by cars last week in the Borough sustained serious injury. One collision took place on the University campus, the second just outside the campus.

A few minutes before 5 Thursday afternoon, Joel Kelly, a 23-year-old student from Inman, S.C., was struck on Elm Drive by a car operated by Leslie V. Moore, 37, of Trenton. Mr. Moore, a University employee, was stopped for a stop sign on Elm Drive where it intersects a bike path just north of Edwards Hall. Mr. Moore told Ptl. Robert Shoblock that he saw no one and proceeded forward.

The front bumper of his car caught the cycle's rear tire, throwing Mr. Kelly 24 feet through the air. He was taken by the Princeton First Aid Squad to Princeton Medical Center where he was treated for a contusion of the left knee and released.

Mr. Moore was issued a summons for driving while on a revoked list.

Nassau & University Place

A few minutes before 5 last Tuesday afternoon, another student cyclist, Elizabeth P. Hammond, 21, of Berlin, Md., was involved in an accident at the intersection of Nassau Street and University Place.

According to Ptl. Shoblock, the investigating officer, a Toyota driven by Catherine A. Groben, 28, of Monmouth Junction, had stopped at the light, waiting to turn left onto University Place, when her front bumper collided with the frame of the cycle in the intersection.

Miss Hammond, he wrote in his report, had left the north curb of Nassau and had disregarded the traffic light. She was issued a summons for the violation.

The victim was transported by the Princeton First Aid ambulance to the Medical Center where she was treated for abrasions to her chin and released. Her bicycle was not damaged.

Party Goer Is Charged With Disorderly Conduct

When Phillip Allshouse, 31, of Pretty Brook Road became disorderly while attending a party on Chambers Street early Sunday morning, he was asked to leave.

Police were called at 2 a.m. when Allshouse tried to return to the party, Capt. Peter Hanley reported. When police advised Allshouse that he was not wanted, he became disorderly, although Capt. Hanley said there was no physical confrontation.

Allshouse, who police said had been drinking, was issued a summons and later released.

In another incident at the party, a 28-year-old resident of Montgomery Township told police that her black leather jacket which she valued at $500 had been stolen from a coat rack.

She placed the time of the theft between 11:30 Saturday evening and 12:45 Sunday morning.

Clothing Bag Is Stolen; Loss Placed at $1,275

A carryall bag containing mostly clothing was stolen last week from a 1982 Rabbit parked in a lot at the Institute for Advanced Study.

Township police said the bag contained mostly clothing — ski pants, sweaters, a jacket, T-shirts, hiking boots — but also a Walkman, books, tapes, discs and sleeping bag. Total value: $1,275.

A front window was smashed to enter the car Sunday morning. The stolen bag was owned by a friend who was visiting the owner of the car, police said.

A $200 AM/FM cassette was pulled out from the dash of a VW wagon that was parked last week in a lot on Hibben Road where the owner lives. The victim told police he thought he had locked the car but there was no sign of a forced entry.

A resident from Ringoes was working at a home on Philip Drive last week and during the day someone removed a $75 CB radio from under the dash of his unlocked pickup truck that was parked out front. While he was working, said Lt. Anthony Gaylor, the victim had also removed his shirt with his wallet in the pocket.

Later, after noticing his CB was missing, the victim reached into his shirt pocket to get his wallet and discovered it was missing. It contained $300.

House, Car Hit with Eggs

A home on Riverside Drive and an '89 Ford parked in the drive were pelted with a dozen eggs between 11:30 Saturday night and 8:15 the next morning. An egg carton was found at the scene.

Police said some soiled toilet paper was also left on the front porch. "No one saw anything," said Lt. Gaylord.

Three Fined on Monday In Criminal Court Here

Three persons were fined Monday in Borough criminal court.

Jason L. Page, 210 Palmer Square, was fined a total of $725 and had his license revoked for six months for possession of narcotic paraphernalia. On a second charge of theft, he was fined $125 and $50 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board. On a motor vehicle violation, driving while his license was suspended, Page was fined $515 and lost his license for an additional six months.

Princeton University students Matthew Delaney, 12 Holder Hall, and Matthew Parr, 324 Hamilton Hall, were each fined $50 as minors in possession of an alcoholic beverage.

In Borough traffic court, Gennaro Salzano, 37-01 Ravens Crest Drive, Plainsboro, was fined $1,015 for driving while on a revoked list and $65 for a red light violation.

Fined $65 each are Nader Tadros, 40 Linwood Circle, speeding, and Ling W. Friedman, Millstone River Apartments, red light. Jean Martin, 200 Mountain Avenue, paid $115 for passing a stopped school bus.

In Township court last week, Eric W. Bantue, 14 Redding Circle, was fined $65 for speeding and $30 for no license or registration in possession.

Speeding cost Nagarathin Viswanathan, 6 Santina Court, Lawrenceville, $75, while Alicia Studzinskamackow, 109C Orchard, Cranbury, was fined $65 for a stop sign violation.

Two Wallets Are Stolen In Borough Last Week

Police report the theft of two wallets last week in the Borough.

A Ewing resident told police that her wallet had been stolen from her shoulder bag while she was attending a movie in the Garden Theater. She lost credit cards but no cash.

A Trenton resident had her wallet stolen on Sunday when she left it for five minutes on a sidewalk merchandise display table on Nassau Street. It contained $7 and credit cards.

A student's $100 brown leather jacket was stolen from a coat hook in the Mathey Dining Hall on campus and in another campus theft, a Hamilton Hall student said his Texas flag which he had hanging outside his ground floor window was taken during the weekend. The 3- by 5-foot flag is valued at $15.

Another week, another list of stolen bicycles. An old bike valued at $25 was taken from outside 1938 Hall on campus, a $300 Schwinn model from the East Pyne Archway and a $450 Raleigh mountain bike from outside the Dinky station on lower University Place where a student had left it overnight locked to itself.

Township police report a boy's 12-speed Huffy bike, valued at $130, was stolen from behind a shed at the end of a driveway on Terhune Road. It was unlocked.

Neighbor Smells Pot; Charges Follow for Two

Paolo Maiorana, 29, a Palmer Square resident, and Carl Steiner, 32, of Altadena, Calif., were arrested last week by Borough police and charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana.

Det. Ralph Terracciano and police went to Maiorana's apartment after a neighbor, who claimed to have detected an odor of marijuana, called them at 10:25 last Tuesday evening. Once inside the apartment, police noticed a small quantity of the drug in plain view.

Both men were taken to headquarters and later released, pending an appearance April 27 in Borough court.

Gender and Education Topic of Conference

To mark five years since it first admitted girls, the Lawrenceville School will hold a major conference on gender and education at the end of this week.

Entitled "Celebrating Our Differences," the conference will open Thursday evening with a talk by Warren Farrell, author of The Liberated Man: Beyond Masculinity and Why Men are the Way They Are. The talk will be held in the Kirby Arts Center, starting at 7:30.

Bernice Sandler, senior associate of the Center for Women Policy Studies in Washington, D.C., will give the keynote address Friday morning at 9, also in Kirby Arts Center. In her talk, titled "The Classroom Climate: A Chilly One for Women?" she will examine four ways in which the coed classroom may not meet girls' needs.

Nineteen different workshops will be offered Friday morning at various locations on the campus, some of which will be repeated Friday afternoon. The titles range from "What Do Young Women Want?" to "Boys Will be Boys," "Gender in Testing," "Gender and Science," "Male and Female Energy," and "The Awarding of Prizes in a Coed School."

Doreen Kimura of the Department of Psychology of the University of Western Ontario will present a workshop on "The Biology of Sex Differences in Cognition." Dr.

Water Co. Hydrant Flushing Under Way

The Elizabethtown Water Company has begun annual fire hydrant flushing to prepare its system for the summer months.

Hydrant flushing is the process of forcing water through mains to dislodge small particles of rust and sediment. Such sediment does not affect water purity, but it can cause water to become discolored when the peak demands of the summer cause water to travel at an increased velocity through the mains.

Hydrant flushing is a necessary part of Elizabethtown's year-long process of testing and maintaining hydrants and is done in the spring when demand for water is low. As always, water conservation practices are followed and the amount of water used during the process is kept to a minimum.

Customers may experience discolored water for short periods of time while flushing is being done in their neighborhoods. The water will still be safe to drink and any discoloration will disappear rapidly. However, it is best to wait until the water is clear before using dish or clothes washers.

Elizabethtown will flush hydrants in the evening, between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., to reduce any inconvenience to homeowners and motorists and to eliminate possible hazards to children. The Company anticipates the program will be completed in six to eight weeks.

Kimura is an authority on neurological differences between the sexes.

Peggy McIntosh, associate director, Wellesley College Center for Research on Women, will discuss 10 schools which have revised their course offerings with regard to sex, gender and race. A panel of faculty members and deans from formerly all-male independent schools, Phillips Academy, Taft, Deerfield and Lawrenceville, will discuss their schools' experience, positive and negative, Friday afternoon between 1 and 3:30.

Heads of schools that have remained single sex (The Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., the Salisbury School in Connecticut, Madeira School in Washington, D.C., the Phelps School, Hill School and Valley Forge Military Academy) will discuss the various advantages of a single sex education, also on Friday afternoon.

Linda Kaufman, coordinator of coeducation at Buckingham Browne & Nichols School in Cambridge, Mass., will wind up the conference Saturday morning with a talk entitled "Looking to the Future: What Issues Must We Confront Now?" Her talk will take place in the Kirby Arts Center from 9:30 to 11.

The conference will include an art show, book display and book sale on related topics.

Evening for Parents Set by Learning Studio

The Learning Studio will hold an evening for parents Thursday at 7:30 in the education wing of the Kingston Presbyterian Church.

The evening is designed for parents who are concerned with the level of learning anxiety in their children and those who are looking for alternatives to traditional schooling. The Learning Studio is an independent day school which was formerly part of the Educational Therapy Clinic of Princeton. A panel of current Learning Studio parents will talk about the learning journeys of their children.

There will be an opportunity to register for the summer studio and for full-time fall enrollment. Also available are student learning evaluations and an on-going support group. If a child is having difficulty finishing this school year successfully, the Learning Studio can offer a positive completion of the term.

The academic structure is designed for each student to learn to organize, follow through and evaluate the process. The staff encourages students to develop strong values which provide the foundation for their academic growth. An effort is made to blend the lowering of anxiety with the structure of techniques students can use in their daily studies.

Princeton's Sense of Place Topic of Chamber Forum

The Princeton Business Association, an arm of the Princeton Area Chamber of Commerce, will sponsor a public roundtable discussion between Borough officials and members of the Princeton business community on Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at the Nassau Inn. The public is invited to attend. There is no charge. The topic will be, "Princeton — A Sense of Place."

"This is an opportunity for public officials and business leaders to work together to better define the kind of place they would like Princeton to be," said Attorney A.C. Reeves Hicks who, as chairman of the Business Association, wil serve as moderator for the evening. "It is a chance for us to learn from one another, while strengthening lines of communication and ensuring a bright future for this town and its people."

Mayor Marvin Reed will lead the discussion on behalf of the Borough. Business leaders expected to attend include Architect Fred Travisano, Samuel Kind of LaVake Jewelers, Christine Lokhammer of Chemical Bank, Leon Christen of Lahiere's and N.T. Callaway, real estate broker.

For more information, call the chamber at 520-1776.

Crawford House Founder Will Retire on July 1

Betty L. Koehler, founder and executive director of Crawford House, Inc., has announced that she will retire on July 1. Ms. Koehler has worked with persons recovering from alcoholism and drug addiction for more than 15 years in central New Jersey. More than 750 women have been served in the Crawford House, a halfway house for women and adolescent girls located in Skillman.

———

Two hundred fifty adolescent boys have been through Cedar House, a Crawford House, Inc. program in Bridgewater. Still another facility was opened in Mercer County which offers housing for Crawford House graduates.

All three programs were founded by Ms. Koehler with the help of a volunteer board of directors drawn from the community.

Ms. Koehler plans to go into the private counseling field after July 1.

Deciphering Maya Script Is Topic of Lecture

On Wednesday, April 8, the Princeton Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will sponsor a lecture by Professor Michael Coe of Yale University. His topic will be "Breaking the Maya Code: How the Maya Script Was Deciphered."

Dr. Coe, the author of widely read books on Mexico and the Maya, organized the Americas section of the recent major Washington exhibition, "Circa 1492."

His lecture will be held in the Library Lecture Hall of the Institute for Advanced Study on Olden Lane at 8:30 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

BREAKING THE MAYA CODE: This conch shell is inscribed with Maya hieroglyphs, the subject of Michael Coe's April 8 lecture at the Institute for Advanced Study, sponsored by the Archaeological Institute of America - Princeton Society. The shell will appear in an exhibition opening April 26 in the Princeton University Library.

Job Search Workshop At Professional Roster

The Professional Roster will sponsor a job search workshop on Tuesday, April 21, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., at 171 Broadmead.

Conducted by Bonnie Brown, research director, Minsuk, Macklin, Stein & Associates, a career counseling and outplacement firm, the workshop will emphasize the importance of a focused approach in job hunting. Learning how to target companies, how to use SIC codes in selecting industries, and what to say in cover letters are among the topics to be covered.

There is a $15 registration fee for Professional Roster members and a $20 fee for nonmembers. Pre-registration is necessary.

Egg Hunt Planned

There will be an Easter egg hunt on Saturday, April 18, at 10:30 a.m. in the center courtyard at the Princeton Shopping Center. Children may have a photo taken with the Easter Bunny for a nominal fee, and the Easter Bunny will also give out a special gift to each boy and girl who visits.

Look for the coloring contest entry on page 6 of this paper. Color it and bring to the Easter Bunny at the egg hunt. The first, second and third-place winners in the 3- to 4-year-old, 5- to 6-year-old and 7- to 9-year-old categories will be awarded a $50, $25, and $10 gift certificate, respectively, to Princeton Shopping Center stores, Bellini, Country Kids or Jordan's Card & Gifts.

For more information, call 921-6234.

Career Search Focus Of YWCA Spring Courses

The Princeton YWCA's Directions program, inspired by the Life Planning Seminar at the University of Richmond (Vir.) Women's Resource Center, continues to expand its offerings after a successful first year.

The program is designed to help women take a look at themselves, think about who they are and decide where they are going. Through testing, group experiential learning, and a variety of teaching methods, participants will learn how to identify their personal strengths, clarify their values and set new goals.

New this spring, is a Career Search Course held by Virginia Aris, president of Aris Associates, an educational and career consulting firm. Participants will learn to identify their interest and skills, learn about jobs that fit, practice writing resumes and cover letters, understand effective networking and interviewing, and learn how to project a professional image.

Classes meet Tuesdays, April 14 to May 19 at 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. The fee for this six-week session is $75.

Another new seminar this spring is How to Get the Most from a Temporary Agency. Donna Mannon, office manager of J & J Temporaries, and Judy Camisa, owner of LEARNPerfect Computer Training Company, will hold the session Tuesday, April 14, from 7 to 9 p.m. The fee is $20 for YWCA members and $25 for nonmembers.

Job Search Strategy — Tactics & Techniques will be held by Phyllis Macklin, co-founder of Minsuk, Macklin and Stein & Associates. The sessions will meet Wednesdays, May 6 and 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. The fee is $30 for YWCA members, $35 for nonmembers.

Self-Assessment for Life Planning will be offered by Dr. Sandra Grundfest, a certified career counselor with a private practice in Princeton. A self-assessment testing package will be mailed in advance to each participant before the seminar to help evaluate her interests, values, personality type and skills. Dr. Grundfest will help organize this knowledge into a map for working with others and creating a career path.

The seminar meets Thursday, May 14, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The fee is $25 for YWCA members, $30 for nonmembers.

Paulette Zimmerman, head of Zimmerman Associates, with 16 years of experience in human resources and consulting, will hold a career exploration seminar on What Jobs Are Out There for Me? She will help participants set a target and find out what jobs and professions are hiring today. The seminar will meet Wednesday, May 20, from 6:30 to 9:30. The fee is $25 for YWCA members and $30 for nonmembers.

There is also help for teenagers who never seem to have enough money to buy the things they want. Budgeting Help for Teens will help teenagers prepare a personal budget and teach them to spend money wisely. Two sessions will meet Thursday, April 9 and May 7, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The fee is $8 plus a YWCA junior membership.

For more information, call the Adult Department of the Princeton YWCA, 497-2103.

How Do You Know A Nice Fish When You Meet One?

This is an important question. In general, look for the same qualities in a fish that you would in a friend: clear eyes, healthy skin-color and no strong body odors.

A fish that fits these criteria is a fish worth taking home.

Golf Classic April 14 At Mercer Oaks Course

Enjoy a round of golf and help Mercer County Community College athletics at the same time. The MCCC Athletic Foundation will sponsor its first Golf Classic on April 14 at Mercer Oaks Golf Course on Village Road in West Windsor.

Hamilton Township Mayor and MCCC alumnus Jack Rafferty will serve as honorary chair of the event. The cost is $125 per golfer and includes lunch, greens fees, a golf cart, cocktails and refreshments and an abundance of special prizes. The cost of becoming a hole or tee sponsor is $100, and the cost for attending the awards cocktail party only is $25. Foursomes will be arranged for single registrants. Proceeds from the event will support athletic programs at MCCC.

The event will begin with registration and lunch from 11 to 11:45 and the shotgun start is at noon. The 19th hole awards cocktail party is from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The party, which includes an open bar, will be held at Angeloni's on White Horse-Mercerville Road in Hamilton Square.

For information and registration forms, call Doug Kokoskie, 586-4800, extension 740.

Debate on Iraqi Sanctions Scheduled at University

A panel debate, "Iraqi Sanctions: Should They Be Lifted?" will be held on Wednesday, April 15, at 8 p.m. in Whig Hall, behind Nassau Hall.

It will pit James Fine, a consultant on humanitarian relief in Iraq for the American Friends Service Committee, against Daniel Pipes, a member of the Foreign Policy Research Institute in Philadelphia and frequent writer and TV commentator on the Middle East.

The public discussion is sponsored by the Whig-Cliosophical Society of Princeton University and the Princeton Middle East Society.

Nature Walk Planned For Senior Citizens

The Senior Resource Center and the Recreation Department are sponsoring spring nature walks.

All senior citizens are invited to join Dr. Lee Merrill, retired Rutgers University professor, on a hilltop nature walk Wednesday, April 15, at 10 a.m. The walk will begin in the parking lot of All Saints' Church, All Saints' Road off Terhune. The walk is free and seniors can register by calling the Senior Resource Center, 924-7108.

Talk on Math Education

On Thursday evening Dr. Richard Lesh will speak to parents, teachers, and administrators about math education. Dr. Lesh is a principal research scientist at Educational Testing Service and is the director of ETS's research on technology and assessment. For more than 15 years, he was a professor of mathematics and psychology at Northwestern University.

One of Dr. Lesh's major research areas is children's abilities to use elementary mathematics in everyday problem solving situations.

The Riverside PTO and Principal Bill Cirullo invite the community, parents and teachers to attend this meeting.

Montgomery Rejects Route 206 Settlement

Montgomery Township Committee voted 4 to 0 last Wednesday night to reject a proposed settlement of its lawsuit against state plans for widening Route 206.

The vote came after a three-hour public hearing attended by some 400 residents. The 27 who spoke all urged Committee not to sign the settlement agreement which left open future four-laning of the highway pending traffic studies. The next day, Montgomery mayor John Warms requested a meeting with New Jersey Department of Transportation Commissioner Thomas Downs through the office of Governor James Florio.

An earlier meeting with Commissioner Downs to iron out differences between the two sides in regard to the settlement proposal was abruptly cancelled at the last minute by the State attorney general. As of Tuesday, a new meeting had not been scheduled, although Mayor Warms was continuing his efforts to have it include the deputy attorney general as well as members of the governor's staff.

Montgomery Township has been in litigation with the U.S. and New Jersey Transportation departments regarding Route 206 since August, 1989. Montgomery has consistently expressed its concern that Route 92, a widened Route 206 and the Somerset Expressway would, together, form an interregional highway system with high levels of congestion which would impair the character of the Montgomery community.

In December 1990, the State cancelled the Somerset Expressway and in 1991 NJDOT cancelled the portion of Route 92 west of Route 1, but Montgomery has continued to be concerned that a widening of Route 206 to four lanes without what it would deem a suitable outlet for southbound Route 206 would create intolerable traffic conditions in the Township.

Montgomery has also sought improvements to certain intersections along Route 206 where there have been fatal accidents over the years.

In addition, Montgomery has been concerned with protecting the interests of 11 property owners on Johnson Road and Sweetwater Drive whose homes lie in the path of the western bypass of a widened Route 206 around historic Harlingen. An eastern bypass was blocked when the Lafollette Vineyard was declared off-limits as an agricultural area.

In September, 1991, Montgomery and NJDOT agreed to try to settle their differences through mediation. The resulting agreement, which was the subject of the public hearing last Wednesday, stipulates that the DOT will undertake the "small, doable projects," as Montgomery calls them, to improve the Route 518, Orchard Road and River Road intersections before considering full dualization of Route 206.

Also on the high priority list are improving portions of Route 206 between those intersections; creating jug handles at the Village Shopper and Montgomery Shopping Center; making improvements to the Sunset Road intersection and constructing the bypass through the Belle Mead area.

According to the flyer sent out by Montgomery Township in advance of last Wednesday's public hearing, the DOT wants to widen 206 from Orchard Road south to the Montgomery Shopping Center as part of the Orchard Road intersection improvement, but Montgomery disagrees that this is necessary.

No 'New Jersey' Barriers

Another issue to be resolved is the use of a median in any dualized section. Montgomery wants it not to be made of concrete, what it calls a "New Jersey barrier."

The alignment and width of the roadway through Harlingen, an historic area, is a major sticking point. The NJDOT says it will cooperate with Montgomery in seeking federal waivers to allow the dualization on the present alignment through Harlingen as Montgomery prefers, but the settlement agreement stipulates that if Montgomery is unsuccessful in obtaining these waivers, the western bypass through Johnson Drive/Holly Drive will remain the DOT's preferred alignment.

The DOT wants a 96-foot right-of-way with 86 feet of pavement, while Montgomery feels that a smaller roadway is sufficient. NJDOT agrees to do the small, doable projects initially, followed by a traffic study of the need for widening and dualizing the highway. Montgomery has asked the DOT to include in the study an analysis of alternative river crossings to the north of Montgomery, through Franklin Township, believing that such a crossing would relieve Montgomery and Princeton of transient traffic and might eliminate the need for widening Route 206 in Montgomery.

NJDOT has agreed that the improvements in Montgomery, except for the Belle Mead realignment, would be done when the work on Route 206 from Somerville Circle to Old Somerville Road in Hillsborough has been completed. Next would come the 518/206 and Orchard Road intersections, and finally the link from Old Somerville Road to the Pike Run development in Montgomery.

Montgomery has warned its citizens that there are risks inherent in the out-of-court settlement as well as risks and costs in going to trial.

"If we prevail at trial," the flyer states, "we will win another round of Environmental Impact Study, whose conclusions are not predictable. If we lose at trial, the state will have a free hand afterwards."

"MEMORY OF ST. PETERSBURG," an oil on glass, will be included in a show of Alexander Volkov's oil paintings at the Image Gallery, Forrestal Village. The exhibit will run through May 4.

Lead in Your Water Pipes?

In compliance with the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) regulations to minimize public exposure to lead in drinking water, Elizabethtown Water Company invites its customers to participate in a water sampling program.

According to the new sampling guidelines, Elizabethtown must test drinking water from 100 homes that meet the specific EPA "high-risk" home criteria. High-risk homes are single family residences built between 1983 and 1985 (inclusive) that contain lead-soldered copper pipes, and older homes or any buildings that have interior lead pipes or lead service connections.

There are a number of ways to identify lead plumbing in a home:

- Lead pipe and solder are dull grey in appearance while galvanized iron pipe is silver.
- A magnet will adhere to iron but not to lead.
- Copper pipes commonly contain lead solder.

Customers whose homes meet the high risk criteria and who wish to participate in the sampling program should call 1-800-272-1325, extension 366, Monday to Friday from 8 to 4. Customers who are selected for the program will receive sample containers and instructions on how and when to take the sample. Sampling will be done twice during the year.

Elizabethtown's water supply contains no lead, and the company has replaced all known lead service lines. Plumbing and faucet fixtures in homes are the most common source of lead in drinking water. Water that is drawn from lead or lead-soldered pipes after standing for more than six hours may contain undesirable amounts of lead.

The discussion was rushed because of the mayor's desire to see the Duke-Michigan basketball game, and most of the items under review were postponed until Monday, April 27. Committee does not meet this Monday, and Monday, April 20, will be primarily devoted to further discussion of the C-Tec cable television franchise.

Committee did agree to go ahead with the improvement of Stuart Road this summer, over the objections of Committeeman Larry Glasberg who voted against undertaking this project and also against completing portions of Cherry Hill Road.

The Stuart Road project was authorized in 1990 at a projected cost of $350,000. At the time Committee decided not to reconstruct or repave the road for its entire distance from Cherry Valley to The Great Road, but to limit the project to the area that was in the worst condition, from Hardy Drive to The Great Road.

Design of the improvement was conducted in-house by the Township Engineering Department. The project was to have begun last summer and be completed by this spring. Delays in getting ready to bid moved the project to a time when it would interfere with access to Stuart Country Day School during the school year, and it was postponed.

Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser told Committee on Monday night he was anxious to go out to bid with the project shortly so construction could be undertaken this summer and be finished by the time the school begins in the fall. He showed Committee members photographs of sections of the road and explained that its deteriorating condition was due to the fact that proper drainage was not installed when the road was constructed.

Water running off the ridge gets underneath the road and causes it to break up, he said. Sister Sandra Theunick, Stuart headmistress, was present to urge Committee to proceed with the reconstruction, which will include a proper drainage system. She said the numerous pot holes constitute a safety hazard for students and staff coming to school.

Mr. Glasberg tried to find a way out of spending the entire amount, now estimated to be $345,000. He asked if an oil and chip treatment would suffice, or whether the Township could install the drainage system but merely patch the surface with the oil and chip treatment. Mr. Kiser told him neither approach would be sufficient.

After viewing the photographs, Committeewoman Ellen Souter, who had also been inclined to cut or pare down this cost from the Township capital budget, agreed, and the vote to proceed was 4 to 1, with Mr. Glasberg voting against. Similarly Mr. Glasberg voted against completing the reconstruction of the two ends of Cherry Hill Road which have yet to be finished — the north end from Bouvant Drive to Cherry Valley Road, which was ordinanced in 1990, and the south end, including the intersection with Route 206, where the N.J. Department of Transportation has authorized the installation of a traffic light.

Taken together, these two road projects were estimated in 1991 to cost $570,000. The Township has received a grant of $125,000 from the DOT for the north end, plus $220,000 from the developer of Princeton Ridge for off-tract improvements as a condition of Planning Board approval. Committee decided to use these two non-tax sources of funds to proceed with the north end. The cost to the Township is estimated at $191,000.

Mr. Kiser plans to apply for a DOT grant for the south end improvements and says he could hold off doing this part of the work. The traffic light would be an additional $180,000 and is not scheduled for installation until late 1992 or early 1993.

A Dozen Projects

These road improvements were but two of 12 already authorized but not yet funded capital projects that Committee is reviewing.

The others include installing a traffic light at the intersection of Mt. Lucas Road and Ewing Street at a cost of $113,000; safety improvements to dangerous curves on Cherry Valley Road between Heather Road and the Hopewell Township boundary at a cost of $15,000; design of improvements to Jefferson Road, Guyot Street, Moore Steet and Walnut Lane, each of which are in need of improving; and the traffic light at Lovers Lane and Princeton Pike, estimated to cost $72,000.

In addition, $350,000 was authorized by a previous Township administration to update the Township's tax map but is being questioned by members of this administration. On Monday night it was decided to postpone deciding whether or not to spend $3,600 for aerial photography in conjunction with having the tax map updated until April 27, when Tax Assessor Carol Caskey could be present.

Mr. Glasberg called the $3,600 "just the tip of the iceberg," leading to a much larger expenditure involving several tax points. The lowest bid for tax map update was said to be around $280,000, well below the $350,000 originally anticipated. Committeewoman Phyllis Marchand suggested that the Township could be subject to fines from the state for having a tax map that is so out of date, but Mr. Glasberg seemed unconcerned.

Mr. Kiser told Committee that the aerial photography needs to be done when the leaves are not out and suggested that putting off a decision on this part of the project would delay it until November. His plea went unheeded.

Mr. Kiser said that two capital projects can be removed from the funding list. They are installing a traffic signal at Valley Road and Route 206 at a cost of $124,000 and conducting wetland studies of the area where the proposed Bunn Drive connection would go through, at a cost of $30,000.

New Traffic Lights

Following a traffic study, the NJDOT has determined that a traffic signal is not warranted at Valley Road and Route 206. Mr. Kiser said that work on the Bunn Drive connection could be delayed until the area is further developed, when off-tract improvement contributions from developers could be used for the wetlands study.

However, the Mount Lucas/Ewing Street intersection is unsafe, and according to a memo to Committee from Township Administrator James J. Pascale should be signalized. Discussion of this and other projects was postponed until April 27.

In other business, Committee introduced several ordinances that will have public hearings on April 27. One allows the Township to budget up to the 5 percent permitted as an alternate to the regular 4.5 percent cap and to put the $35,000 that is the difference in surplus, so as to have a higher base on which to calculate next year's cap. Mr. Glasberg voted against this use of the so-called "index rate," saying that it was a way of getting around stricter control of expenditures.

Two other ordinances set higher land development application and construction fees, both of which were introduced unanimously. Committee received a letter from Richard Strazza, president of Springdale Golf Club, outlining the trees and bushes that the club is willing to install to prevent errant golf balls from flying into Alexander Street.

Joe Boyd, the Alexander Street resident who brought suit against the Township in an effort to get a high net installed along the western side of the street by the golf course, was represented as being satisfied that the Township was not going to remove certain trees he thought were going to be removed and with the improvements proposed by Mr. Strazza.

However, Mr. Boyd asked Committee to hold off building the bike path along the western side of the street until everyone is satisfied that golf balls are no longer reaching the street.

THE MAYOR LENDS A HAND: Township Mayor Richard Woodbridge poses with Waldorf School parent Heide Ratliff at the school's recent "A Taste of India" event to raise funds for the upcoming 7th/8th grade class trip to Colmar, France.

Trip to Colmar Planned By Waldorf School Class

At the invitation of the Borough's sister city, Colmar, France, the 7/8th grade class of the Waldorf School of Princeton will spend the last two weeks of June in Colmar.

Eighteen students will live with families from the Waldorf School of Colmar, who will sponsor the students' stay while in France. The Princeton students will attend classes with their French peers, as well as hike and camp in the Vosges Mountains with their counterparts from the local Waldorf school. They will then spend the first week of July traveling through Burgundy, the Swiss Alps, and southern Germany.

Fund-raising to support this ambitious undertaking began more than a year ago, when a trip for this first graduating class of the Waldorf School was first proposed.

Scholarship Foundation Launches Annual Appeal

The Spring '92 appeal of the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation has begun. Appropriately, this is also the time of year when students are hearing from colleges and are faced with meeting the escalating costs of higher education.

Each year, the Foundation grants scholarships to those Princeton High School students who have been accepted by a college, university, or technical school but may need additional financial aid after exhausting all loans, work programs, federal and state aid, grants and personal funds.

In each of the last two years, the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation has awarded grants of more than $35,000. Many of the recipients tell the Foundation that without its aid, they would not have been able to attend the schools of their choice; the costs were just too high.

Tax deductible contributions may be sent to Florence Burke, c/o The Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation, 151 Moore Street, Princeton 08540.

Traffic Light Needed at Mercer and Olden

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There have been four serious accidents at the corner of Olden Lane and Mercer Street. Two friends of mine have had their cars totaled. One, just today (March 30), was lucky to walk away with no injuries.

Mercer is a main artery to Princeton and at commuting hours there can be waits of 15 to 20 minutes to cross Mercer from Olden or Lover's Lane.

Is the town waiting for someone to be killed before they put in a light? If so, I'm afraid they won't have to wait long.

When I asked this question of the policeman at today's accident, he said he didn't know; it was another department.

RENE CARRILLO

35 Olden Lane

Editor's Note: The Township has received outhorization from N.J. Department of Transportation to install a light on Mercer Street at the intersection of Lover's Lane and Olden Lane. According to Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser, the plans and specifications are nearly complete ond the project should go out for bid in the next two or three weeks. Construction could take ploce this summer and typically would toke 30 to 60 days. The cost of the light and some improvements to the intersection are being shared by the Borough ond the Township, with the Borough contributing 25 percent and the Township the remaining 76 percent. The money has been oppropriated by both municipolities.

Appreciation Expressed For 2 Retiring Teachers

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We wish to say how very much our family appreciates the tenure of Bill Tregoe and Nancianne Parrella at Princeton High School. Upon the retirement of these admirable teachers and performers of music, we celebrate and regret this point in the history of the Music Program.

Both of our children found an anchor during turbulent teenage years in singing with the Princeton High School Choir. This is not to mention the marvelous training and exposure to great music they also acquired during their years with the Tregoe/Parrella duo.

In addition to the social benefits of having a commitment to peers of equal persuasion, the group of students they spent their time with could not have been better. Our Melanie '90 and David '91 are college students now.

We wish to commend the Board, the Faculty, the Administration and the taxpayers who supported such stellar leadership in the Music Program. We are forever grateful. We hope that similar opportunities will be afforded to the coming generations of students.

Dismantling of Weapons Topic of Talk on Campus

For the second lecture in the Evnin series on science and public policy at Princeton University, Dr. Frank von Hippel will give a talk entitled "Dismantling the Doomsday Machine" on Wednesday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. in Kresge Auditorium.

Dr. von Hippel is a 1959 graduate of MIT and earned his D.Phil. in theoretical physics from Oxford University in 1962. During the next ten years, his research focus was in theoretical elementary-particle physics, and he held research positions at the University of Chicago, Cornell University and Argonne National Laboratory and was on the physics faculty of Stanford University. In 1974, Dr. von Hippel's interests shifted to "policy physics." After spending a year as a resident fellow at the National Academy of Science, he joined the faculty of Princeton University.

For the past decade, his research has focused on the possibilities of deep cuts in the nuclear arsenals, verified nuclear-warhead elimination, a universal cutoff of the production of unsafeguarded fissile materials and a low-threshold or comprehensive nuclear-warhead test ban. He shared the American Physical Society's 1977 Forum Award for promoting the understanding of the relaitonship of physics and society for the book, Advice and Dissent: Scientists in the Political Areno, and in 1989 was awarded the Federation of American Scientists' Public Service Award.

Dr. von Hippel's lecture will be about the challenges that the U.S. and CIS face in dismantling the huge nuclear arsenals that they built up during the Cold War. He plans to report on the progress so far, point out the political decisions not yet made and discuss the relationship between this effort and the problem of nuclear weapons proliferation.

Dr. von Hippel brings a unique perspective to this topic, as he has been involved in the process in numerous ways, both in cooperative research with the scientists advising Gorbachev, and also in providing technical advice to the Soviet and Russian Foreign Ministries, as well as to Congressional Committees and individual U.S. congressmen interested in pushing the frontiers of nuclear arms control.

Eight Boys & Five Girls Are Born at Familyborn

From February 10 to March 22, eight boys and five girls were born at Familyborn.

Sons were born to Kathleen and James Leedom of Bordentown and to Julie Goodson-Lawes and Jorge Klor De Alva of Princeton, February 4; Terry and Edward Fitzell of Lawrenceville, February 6; Lisa and Thomas Hunt of Hopewell, February 12; Robyn Churchill and Bill Ladd of Raritan, February 23; Ellen and Johnny Abernathy of Lawrenceville, February 25; Beth Ann and Bernard O'Connell of East Brunswick, February 27; and Betty and Jim Sommerville of Somerset, March 18.

Daughters were born to Laurie and James Veninger of Kendall Park, February 10; Karen and Edward Goeller of Piscataway, February 15; Laura and Joseph Knewasser of Manville, March 2; Kate and Carl Burns of Rocky Hill, March 16; and Hope and Thomas Anderson of Princeton, March 22.

There were 19 additional Familyborn births at its back-up hospital, Helene Fuld Medical Center, in February and March.

Camden Aquarium Trip Set by Watershed Ass'n

Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will conduct a bus trip to the new New Jersey State Aquarium at Camden on Wednesday, April 22.

The aquarium is the centerpiece of the Camden waterfront redevelopment project and features the second largest fish tank in the United States with the largest viewing window in the world.

Following the visit to the aquarium, the group will travel by Riverbus ferry to the Port of History Museum at Penn's Landing, Philadelphia. The featured exhibit at the museum focuses on the lifestyle of the Mapuche Indians of Chile.

The bus will leave the Watershed headquarters on Titus Mill Road in Hopewell Township at 9 a.m. and return by 4 p.m. The cost is $30 for members, $35 for nonmembers, including transportation and admissions. The registration deadline is Saturday, April 18.

Princeton Author to Speak At N.J. Scholars Program

John McPhee, noted author, Ferris Professor of Journalism at Princeton University, and Drake's Corner Road resident, will be the guest speaker at a reception to celebrate the 15th anniversary of The New Jersey Scholars Program.

The reception, an afternoon tea, will be held in the Abbott Dining Room at The Lawrenceville School on Sunday, at 3:30. The public is invited. Tickets cost $25 and reservations may be made by callling Sherry Downes at 895-2107.

John McPhee

Mr. McPhee has written 22 books of nonfiction and numerous articles. His first book, which has just been reissued in paperback, is an early biography of Bill Bradley, A Sense of Where You Are. His books are on diverse topics: The Pine Barrens, Levels of the Game (about tennis), The Survival of the Bark Canoe and, most recently, Looking for a Ship (following a merchant seaman on a trip to South America).

Mr. McPhee was an editor at Time Magazine and since 1965 has been a staff writer for The New Yorker Magazine where most of his books first appear in article form. He teaches a course at Princeton titled "The Literature of Fact."

The subject of his talk on Sunday is "Writer and Subject."

At the reception, a recognition gift will be presented to Scott McVay, Province Line Road, executive director of the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation in Morristown. Mr. McVay was instrumental in the founding of The New Jersey Scholars Program in 1977 and has continued to be a mentor to the program. The late Dr. Wade Stephens, a classics teacher at Lawrenceville School, wanted to start a program which would seek out bright high school students from all 21 counties in New Jersey and offer them a college-like summer experience which would encourage them to raise their intellectual sights.

The Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation provided funding to start the program. In the last 15 years, the foundation has continued to provide generous support for the program, contributing a total of $450,000 to help change the lives of more than 500 New Jersey boys and girls.

Since this year marks the end of the Dodge support, The New Jersey Scholars Foundation is seeking to inform the corporate and foundation community of the value of the program. An announcement will be made at the reception of a new and generous donation from the Bristol-Myers Squibb Company. Other generous contributors have been The Chubb Corporation, Commodities Corporation, United Jersey Bank, and The Miles Hodsdon Vernon Foundation.

This year, 125 New Jersey high schools throughout the state submitted applications; 95 high school juniors were interviewed, and 39 have been accepted for the 1992 summer program on the Twentieth Century (history, literature, music and art). Three-quarters of the students come from public high schools and approximately 12 percent are African-American or Hispanic.

Many of the former scholars have gone on to distinguished careers in universities, research, medicine and law.

For further information, call Ms. Downes at Lawrenceville School, 895-2107.

Blood Donors Needed

Princeton Medical Center's Blood Donor Room will be opened for the first time on a Saturday, beginning this week, from 10 to 2. The Donor Room will thereafter be opened one Saturday each month, with future dates to be announced.

There is a never-ending need for a safe, stable blood supply to serve the Princeton Area. The community is strongly encouraged to contribute to this critical cause. The commonly heard phrase "Give Blood, Save a Life" is no exaggeration. Your donation makes a difference. Call the Medical Center's Blood Donor Room at 497-4366 to schedule an appointment for this Saturday, April 11.

The Blood Donor Room is located at 253 Witherspoon Street in the Medical Arts Building, Suite B, directly across from the main entrance to the Medical Center.

Erica Jong Is Featured At Writers Conference

The eleventh annual Trenton State College Writers Conference will include "An Evening with Erica Jong," on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Brower Student Center. Ms. Jong, an author who has been described as "one of the liveliest and most influential women of letters writing today" will read from some of her works and comment on them.

The TSC's Writers Conference is an annual event which brings together aspiring and amateur writers from all over the east coast to attend panel discussions, workshops, and readings by successful and critically acclaimed writers, agents, and publishers. There are sessions for people interested in many different fields, including fiction, poetry, and screenwriting. The conference is organized by Jean Hollander of the TSC English Department. It takes place in the Brower Student Center.

This year's conference will also feature noted author Russell Banks, who will speak on the creation of fiction and will read from his works. This will take place at 4:30 p.m.

The cost for a full day of panels and readings is $40 for the general public, $20 for students of other schools and TSC staff members, and $6 for TSC students. Each workshop is $5 each, and attending either the Erica Jong or the Russell Banks presentation will be $5. For further information on the conference, or to receive a registration form, call Jean Hollander at 771-3254.

PEOPLE in the News

George M. Taber, 404 Snowden Lane, editor, Business for Central New Jersey, has been selected as the New Jersey Media Advocate of the Year by the U.S. Small Business Administration. The award is presented as part of the observance of National Small Business Week, May 10 to 16.

Candidates were considered based on their efforts to increase public understanding of the importance of small business. Mr. Taber was nominated by the Chamber of Commerce of the Princeton Area.

Anne Tevebaugh, a 1988 graduate of Princeton High School where she played lacrosse, is a senior offensive player on the 1992 Cornell University women's lacrosse team. A three-year letter winner for the Big Red, she scored six goals and had four assists for the 1991 team.

Charles Fefferman, Herbert E. Jones Jr. '43 University Professor of Mathematics, has been selected to receive the 1992 Bergman Trust Award. Established in 1988, the trust recognizes mathematical accomplishments in the areas of research in which Prof. Bergman, a longtime member of the Stanford University faculty, worked. The award consists fo $20,000 per year for two years.

Prof. Fefferman, a Clover Lane resident, was cited for his contributions to the study of the Bergman kernel, a mathematical function. A 1966 graduate of the University of Maryland where he earned his B.S. in mathematics and physics, he received his doctorate in mathematics from Princeton in 1969.

He was a lecturer at Princeton in 1969-1970 before moving to the University of Chicago, where he advanced to the rank of professor in 1971. In 1972 he returned to Princeton, where he was appointed to his current named professorship in 1984.

In 1978, Prof. Fefferman received the Field Medal, an international award considered to be the highest honor in mathematics research. His other awards and honors include the Salem Prize (1971), election to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences (1972), to the National Academy of Sciences (1979) and to the American Philosophical Society (1989).

Wendy Varga of Lawrenceville Road was awarded the grand prize of $250 in a farm photo contest sponsored by the New Jersey Agricultural Society for best black and white entry. She won it for her photograph of a blacksmith in the category, "Farm Work in Progress."

Her photograph and the other prize winners will be on display in the State House Rotunda in Trenton from April 23 to 29.

The Central New Jersey Chapter of The American Jewish Committee will honor Dr. Harold T. Shapiro, President of Princeton University, with the 1992 Philip Forman Human Relations Award at its Annual Meeting on Wednesday, April 29, at the Greenacres Country Club. Dinner co-chairs are Steven and Reba Orszag of Princeton.

Dr. Shapiro was installed as Princeton University's 18th president on January 8, 1988. He received his Ph.D. in economics from Princeton in 1964 and holds a faculty appointment as a professor of economics and public affairs.

His professional activities include membership in the Conference Board Inc. and the Bretton Woods Committee. He is chief economic advisor for Junior Achievement, Inc. A trustee of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, the Universities Research Association, the Consortium on Financing Higher Education and Interlochen Center for the Arts, he also serves as a director of the Dow Chemical Company and the National Bureau of Economic Research.

In January 1990, Dr. Shapiro was named a member of President Bush's newly established Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. He has served since June 1991 as Chairman of the Institute of Medicine's Committee on Employer-Based Health Benefits. He is a member of the Institute of Medicine, the American Philosophical Society and a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Richard W. Roper, assistant dean of graduate career placement and governmental relations at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, has left the school to accept the position of director of business development at the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

Frances Clark, president of the New School for Music Study and internationally recognized as a pioneer in piano pedagogy, is the subject of two video tapes. The first, Conversations with Frances Clark, premiered at the Music Teachers National Association Convention in Milwaukee, Monday evening, April 6. Following the screening, there was a reception honoring Miss Clark and Louise Goss, director of the New School.

The tapes were filmed last fall at the New School's Kingston studios and at Westminster Choir College, where Miss Clark and Miss Goss are part of the graduate pedagogy program, chaired by Phyllis Lehrer. The conversations with Miss Clark range over the 60 years of her teaching career.

They include her approach to piano education, her belief that there is music in every child, a discussion of how children learn, the growth of the piano teaching profession during her career and the changes she has witnessed. She also answers questions about her piano study materials, The Frances Clark Library far Piano Students, used worldwide.

In addition to the conversations, there are teaching scenes at the New School with the children who study piano there and with the professionals who are studying piano pedagogy and performance in the school's graduate training program.

Princeton Parking Meters' Best Friend Set to Retire

Princeton Borough's meter maven has left. John Jackson, who arrived with the meters in 1950, has retired after 42 years with the Borough.

A week before his retirement, in his shop in the basement of Borough Hall, Mr. Jackson stood surrounded by parking meters in various stages of being. His career began when he was hired as a clerk-typist by Borough Engineer I. Russell Riker right after his graduation from Princeton High School.

One month later, the Borough received its first order of meters: 450 new Karparks, in a shade of blue meant to evoke the town's Colonial past. Mr. Jackson was assigned the job of maintaining the new additions.

Mr. Jackson moved with his family in 1948 from Pennsylvania to Kingston. His father was a steam shovel operator, who worked on the construction of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. His mother was assistant housekeeper at the Princeton Inn, now part of Princeton University but then a popular hotel.

"I think the parking problem was every bit as severe then as it is now, if not more so," said Mr. Jackson. "Princeton was a shopping center for a large area between New Brunswick and Trenton. There were two big food stores, the A&P where CVS is now, and Acme, at Nassau and Moore. They were booming."

Mr. Jackson probably knows more about meters than anyone in the business. He repairs them, sometimes on the street and sometimes in his shop, and he also adjusts them when rates are raised. He has had to do this six times since 1950, as the 5-cent hourly rate rose in increments to the current 60 cents.

Not everyone in Princeton took the arrival of meters well. In their first months, there was a rush of false alarms of meters reported out of order. A check by Mr. Jackson revealed they were perfectly fine.

Parade Grand Marshal

The late Mayor Barbara Sigmund never failed to appreciate the revenue produced by the Borough's meters — and Mr. Jackson's contributions to their efficiency. A meter that had been turned into a lamp was on her desk in Borough Hall, and in 1985 she celebrated the 50th anniversary of the invention of the parking meter — and their 35 years in the Borough — with a party and parade at Palmer Square. Mr. Jackson was grand marshal. Retired meter enforcement officer Robert Anderson was crowned king of the meters.

In 40 years, Princeton went from 450 parking meters to the present 1,070. During this time, $10 million was collected in meter revenue — plus a sizeable amount in fines for overtime parking.

In their first year, $37,817 in coins were collected from the meters. Last year, meter revenue amounted to $643,980. This was in addition to the $222,703 in Park and Shop lot revenues. Mr. Jackson, as parking operations supervisor, also managed this lot, whose attendants are responsible for emptying the meters of coins twice a week.

Over the years, Mr. Jackson has traveled to a number of parking operations workshops and seminars around the country. "One thing I learned was that the parking function in Princeton was very efficient compared to many other locations," he said. "In many jurisdictions, parking is run by an authority which requires its own independent staff. In Princeton, parking operation needs are met by departments already serving in other capacities."

He added that Princeton probably has the largest parking revenue return per operating cost dollar of any municipality he is aware of.

Parking operations continue to be a part of the engineering department. Borough Engineer Carl Peters called Mr. Jackson the foster father for almost 1,100 parking meters in town. "He had to change them twice a week," he said, "doctor them when they were sick, and try to find homes for them when they could no longer be used in the Borough.

"We'll miss him," said Mr. Peters. "It's an end of an era — the Jacksonian era of parking meters."

Thirty-seven years ago, Jack O'Neill came on board as Mr. Jackson's assistant. Mr. O'Neill is expected to be named to replace Mr. Jackson as supervisor of parking operations.

Mr. Jackson will retire to his family's 34-acre farm in Hunterdon County, where he moved in 1984 so his wife could take care of her mother. The Jacksons have three grown children.

He plans to do vegetable gardening and prune trees. A former competitor in archery tournaments, he also wants to keep up with his archery. To his other interests of bicycling, hunting, photography and reading, Mr. Jackson has recently adding fishing.

Mr. Jackson is also a ruling elder and deacon at Nassau Presbyterian Church.

"I have very much enjoyed my job," he said. "They gave me a job taking care of meters, and I came to like them. I was told at 19, 'it's your job to take care of the meters.' I viewed them differently from any other person."

—Myrna K. Bearse

"I was told at 19, 'it's your job to take care of the meters.' I viewed them differently from any other person."

JOHN JACKSON AND FRIEND: At the age of 19, a month after graduating from Princeton High School, John Jackson was put in charge of the 450 newly arrived Borough parking meters. Now, 42 years later, Mr. Jackson has retired to his farm in Hunterdon County. "I enjoyed my job," he said.

Princeton High's 1931 Basketball Team Was One to Remember

Players on past Princeton High School champion basketball teams continue to get in touch and set the record straight. TOWN TOPICS believes it now has it right. While several PHS teams won the Central Jersey title, only two were state champions: the 1931 and 1937 teams.

The date was March 22, 1931. The day Princeton High School defeated Caldwell to win the 13th annual New Jersey State Interscholastic state tournament. Starting guard for Princeton High in the game was Joe Richards. "I remember it well because it was my 18th birthday," he recalled.

While other PHS teams have won Central Jersey titles, just two have been state champions: the 1931 team, the first, was followed six years later by the 1937 team. "It was quite a thing back in those days for such a small school," said Richards, who, although turning 79 last month, still looks as if he could run up and down the court.

Recalled Richards, "We stayed in a big hotel in Asbury Park that night. It was a big treat for us. We had a big celebration."

Coincidentally, the same afternoon that Princeton was winning its state championship, The Hun School, in the same Convention Hall, defeated St. Benedict's Prep of Newark, 24-18, to win the Class C state prep championship. A big day, indeed, for Princeton.

Score Was 20-16

The score in the championship game was Princeton 20, Caldwell 16. "In those days, there was a center jump after every basket," recalled Richards. "All the games were low scoring." In a semi-final game the previous day, Princeton had defeated Keyport, 30-24.

In the title game against Caldwell, Princeton led 11-8 at halftime. A newspaper account in the Trenton Sunday Times-Advertiser reads, "In the final period, the Essex County five rallied and drew up to within two points at 18-16. The ball was thrown at the Caldwell basket a dozen times but it rolled out each time.

"Johnny Tindall broke through with less than a minute to go to count a field goal that proved enough to decide the game. Captain Carl Lutz was the mainspring of the winning attack."

"I was amazed at what I had done in the championship game," said Richards. "I think I scored more points in that game than I did in half the regular season."

Now a resident of Lawrenceville, the Princeton-born Richards was a senior guard on the Tigertown (as they were called) team. Roy Page, who was for many years a Princeton mailman before retiring in 1967 and moving to Florida, was the other guard. Carl Lutz, the team captain and third senior on the team, became a Colonel during World War II and now, says Richards, lives in West Haven, Conn.

Bud Applegate, later a Borough policeman, was the team's center and one of two starting juniors along with Tindall. He and Page are no longer living. Tindall, said Richards, was from Dutch Neck. At the time, he said, the school drew students from all surrounding areas — Dutch Neck, Kingston ... even Trenton. Trenton residents, he said, had a choice of attending school in Trenton or Princeton. Tindall went on to become a salesman and presently is living in Florida.

Others on the team were senior Rudy Ehart, now living in Hamilton Township, senior Bill Saunders and juniors Peter Marx and Harry Caplan. George Tindall (no relation to Johnny), the coach, was also head football and baseball coach. Bill Stonaker was the team manager.

Two Years at Hun Schaal

Although his hair is turning white and he carries more pounds, Richards still has an athletic aura about him. He was a quarterback or blocking back on the PHS football team which operated out of a double wing. Lutz was the fullback, Applegate the center and Tindall an end on the team. Page and Applegate were members of Irwin Weiss's track team and Richards and the rest, he said, all played baseball. "We had fewer than 300 students then," he recalled. "If you were any kind of athlete you played all sports. We were all three or four lettermen."

He remembers starting to go to football games when he was a little kid growing up in Princeton. "We used to sneak into the games." He goes to all the Princeton University games, he says. "I never miss a game."

For the past 17 years he has registered players for a football clinic that Lawrenceville School coach Ken Keufel has conducted each year.

After graduating from Princeton High — the second class to graduate from the new high school on Moore Street — he attended Hun School for two years where he played football and baseball. Said he, "No one had any money in those days and jobs were scarce."

Richards got a scholarship to Syracuse, where, he smiles, the guys on the football team were a lot bigger than the ones he played with in high school. He left after a year.

Working during the day and attending night school to get his degree, Richards spend more than 30 years with the federal government as an auditor and management consultant before retiring in 1972. "Now," he says, "I spend my time playing golf."

A lot of experiences, a lot of memories for Joe Richards but none quite as sharp or memorable as that 1931 state championship basketball team.

News of the THEATRES

New Director Named By PU Triangle Club

The Princeton Triangle Club's board of trustees has announced that Robert Duke will serve as director for the club's 1992 spring show.

Mr Duke was selected after a nation-wide search. He is a graduate of Williams College, served as director and performer at the Williamstown Theater Festival from 1981 to 1989 where he created, directed and/or appeared in more than 30 musical revues. As an actor/singer, he has performed in several New York City theaters, including the Lincoln Center Institute and the Silver Lining.

He has done improvisational comedy with the group "Kaleidoscope" at NYC clubs, and toured as far as India and Sri Lanka as Sir Studley in the Minnesota Opera Company's Once Upon a Mattress. He has also taught at the drama department of the Brearley School in New York from 1983 to the present, where he directed more than 25 plays and musicals.

Another new face for Triangle is that of the orchestrator Mel Marvin, a composer who wrote the score to last season's The Gloss Menagerie at McCarter Theatre. An experienced Broadway composer, Mr. Marvin received a Tony nomination for co-authoring Tintypes. He has written scores for seven off-Broadway shows, composed for most of America's regional theaters, and his musical Elmer Gantry is currently scheduled for Broadway.

Returning to choreograph his third spring show for Triangle will be John Watson (Jacques) Stewart. Mr. Stewart is familiar to McCarter audiences, having choreographed Triangle's Easy Street, The Older the Better, and 100 Years and Still Kicking. He has starred in two PJ&B productions, Promises, Promises and Where's Charley at McCarter. Mr. Stewart has choreographed such shows as Hair and The King and I and done commercial television. He is the artistic director at the Weathervane Theater in New Hampshire.

Judy Collins

The 1992 Triangle Show, which parodies life in the age of the modern media, opens Thursday, April 30 at 7:30 at McCarter and runs through Sunday, May 3.

Tickets are on sale for $12 to $22 for Thursday and Sunday, and for $15 to $25 for Friday and Saturday. They may be reserved by calling the McCarter Theatre box office at 683-8000, Monday through Saturday, from 9 to 6.

Judy Collins to Be Here For McCarter Concert

Singer Judy Collins will give a concert at McCarter Theatre on Saturday, April 18, at 8 p.m.

"An Evening With Judy Collins" will feature the folk and popular song artist whose wide-ranging career has spanned three decades on the American music scene. The music of singer-songwriters like Bob Dylan, Joni Mitchell, Leonard Cohen, Randy Newman and Phil Ochs reached some of its widest audiences via her early recordings. The progression of her more than 20 recordings is from traditional balladry to "protest" songs, to the music of Kurt Weill, Jacques Brel and Stephen Sondheim.

Her program at McCarter will mix a blend of old hits such as Both Sides Now, Someday Soon, My Father and Amazing Grace with songs from her latest album, Fires of Eden.

Tickets are still available and range from $20 to $30. To order by phone, call the McCarter Theatre box office at 683-8000.

Black Arts Company Opens "Fences" Friday

Black Theater returns to Princeton University in the directorial debut of Ta-Tanisha Payne, class of 1994. Her production of August Wilson's Fences is co-sponsored by Wilson College Theater and the Black Arts Company of Princeton, now a little more than a year old. The show will run April 10 to 12 and 16 to 18. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday performances will begin at 8, with the Sunday matinee at 2 p.m.

This production of Fences is born out of Ms. Payne's desire to more heavily involve a talented black community in Princeton theater. It also stems from her own thwarted attempts to find roles to audition for. "It's not that blacks can't or shouldn't want to do Shakespeare or other 'traditional' theater, but we shouldn't have to; we need choices," she said.

Fences is the story of Troy Maxson, a tyrannical black man living with his family in the 1950s. America, still very much a racist country by today's standards, was changing. A civil rights movement was gathering momentum, and Americans, both black and white, had a hard time accepting this change. Troy Maxson was a man who lived by his gut instinct, many times affronting the face of reality, denying the past that has shaped him.

The lead role has been taken by Lakeith Hoskin '94. Beth-Sarah Panton '95 makes her Princeton debut as Rose. Troy's second wife, who has buried herself in Troy's life and fantasies while still trying to remain strong and keep her husband in line. Their eager and strong-willed son, Cory, is played by Jacques Smith '93.

Troy's other children, Lyons and Raynell are played by Dana Crum and Kwanza Jones, both members of the class of '93. The cast is completed by the performance of Troy's friend Bono, played by Kwame Ivery '93.

Reservations are not necessary. Donations will be accepted.

Multimedia Dance Works To Be Staged at Rutgers

The Nikolais and Murray Louis Dance Company will perform a re-creation of Imago — The City Curious, one of Alwin Nikolais' major works, first performed in New York in 1963, on Thursday at 8 in the State Theatre, Livingston Avenue, New Brunswick.

The performance marks the start of a 16-month joint residency and reconstruction project between Rutgers and the modern multimedia dance company.

Rutgers will present 14 to 18 performances in six clusters through June 1993. A number of the reconstructed works will also be taught to Rutgers' own DanceWorks company.

Tickets in the loge and orchestra for the recreation of Imago are $20, $18 for people 63 years and older and Rutgers faculty and staff, and $10 for Rutgers students. Other section prices range from $5 to $16. For information or to charge tickets by phone, call the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office, (908) 932-7511.

Two Parts Theater Co. Offers Beckett Shorts

Two Parts Theater Company of Princeton is presenting an evening of Beckett Short Plays. Play, Texts for Nothing 12, Catastrophe and Rockaby will be performed Thursday through Sunday at 8 p.m.

Performances will be held at the Forbes College Black Box Theatre, located in Forbes College on the Princeton University campus, Alexander Road, across from University Place. Tickets will be $5 for students, $10 for non-students.

Ploy and Catastrophe, directed by Two Parts co-producing artistic director Loretta Greco, will feature Sandra Colbourne, Brian McMonagle, Jacqueline Mauder, Bruce Harris, Jenna Pergament, and Gina Paige. Rockaby, featuring Petie Duncan, will be directed by Paul Zablocki, co-producing artistic director. Texts for Nothing 12 will be directed by guest artist Philip Creech. Sets and lighting will be designed by Wolfgang Hul; costumes wil be designed by Susan Ellis Waskow. Sound design will be by Rob Curto.

Two Parts Theater also plans the continuation of its Cafe Reading Series with a world premier, Killgarden, a fugue in two acts by Thomas Hinton.

Killgarden explores the relationships among four pairs of women between the turn of the century and present day.

The reading will be held at Forbes College Black Box at 8 p.m., Monday. Doors open at 7:15. On display will be the sculpture of Slater, a local artist.

Suggested donation is $3. Refreshments will be served.

Two Durang One-Acts By 'Pennington Players

The Pennington Players will present two one-act plays, The Actor's Nightmore and Sister Mary Ignotius Explains It All for You, by Christopher Durang, on April 10, 11, 17, 18, 24 and 25, beginning at 8 p.m. at the Artists Showcase Theatre in Trenton. The Players are celebrating their 40th anniversary this year.

The Actor's Nightmore features professional actors Jerry Dunn and Mary Bentley, in addition to Christine McCormick, Mindy Goldstein and Ray Pentel. The production is directed by Joyce Kennedy.

Sister Mary Ignotius Explains It All for You is directed by Bobbi Mendel, and features long-time area performer Cheryl Doyle as Sister Mary. Other members of the cast are Betty Henninger, David Kanarek, Dani Monaghan, Dave Swanhart and Scott Willis.

For information, directions, or reservations, call 466-1010.

Mark Morris Dance To Perform at McCarter

The Mark Morris Dance Group will be at McCarter Theatre for a one-night-only performance on Wednesday, April 15, at 8 p.m. The program features five Princeton premieres — including two works danced by Mr. Morris himself.

Mr. Morris has been hailed as the scion of the modern ballet, heir apparent to Ruth St. Denis, Martha Graham, Merce Cunningham, Paul Taylor and even George Balanchine. After a three-year absence, he has recently returned to the United States after serving as the director of dance at the Theatre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels.

Tickets are still available and range from $27 to $35. To order by phone, call the McCarter Theatre box office at 683-8000, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Camelot will be performed April 16 through 18 and 23 through 25 at 8. In addition, there will be two performances at 2 on April 18 and 25. Ticket prices are $5 for students and $7 general admission. There is a $2 discount for the matinee performances. All performances will be held in the Forbes College Theater, Alexander Road and University Place. For information and reservations, call 258-8100.

PUP and all PUP productions are entirely run by students. Camelot is being directed by J.B. Jasiunas, a freshman at Princeton University. Music Director Eric Macgilvray '93 is currently Vice President of PUP and President of the Princeton University Nassoons. Conductor Ed Baier '95 makes his PUP debut with Camelot, but is currently the Student Conductor of the PU Band.

PUP is celebrating its sixth year of existence. Started in 1986 to produce a student-written musical, PUP has prided itself in being an alternative venue for musical productions.

Anouilh's "Becket" In Rutgers Production

Becket, the story of the friendship between Henry II and Thomas Becket that ended in Becket's tragic martyrdom, will be the final play of the 1991-92 Mainstage series of theater at Rutgers.

The play opens Thursday and will run through Sunday, April 26, in the Levin Theater at the Rutgers Arts Center, George Street at Route 18, New Brunswick. Performances are Tuesdays through Saturdays at 8 and Sundays at 2 p.m. There will be no performances April 17 through 20.

Jean Anouilh's play tells the story of Thomas Becket, chancellor of England under Henry II and later archbishop of Canterbury, who was murdered in his own cathedral in 1170.

Tickets are $14 general admission, $12 for people 63 years and older and Rutgers faculty and staff, and $7 for Rutgers students. For information or to charge tickets by phone, call the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office, (908) 932-7511.

"Godspell" in New Hope To Run During Holy Week

The musical Godspell will be performed at Bucks County Playhouse during Holy Week. Performances are set for Tuesday, April 14 through Easter Sunday, April 19.

Godspell is the biblical musical that tells of the last days of Christ as described in the book of Matthew. The show contains such songs as "Day by Day," "All Good Gifts," and "We Beseech Thee."

'Madama Butterfly' Set By Boheme Opera Co.

Boheme Opera Company of Trenton will present Puccini's opera Madama Butterfly on Friday at 8 and Sunday at 3 in the War Memorial auditorium.

Starring in the title role is Philadelphia soprano Virginia Piquette, who has sung other Puccini roles for Boheme Opera. She has also appeared with the Piccola Opera of Philadelphia, the Academy of Vocal Arts Theatre and the Opera Company of Philadelphia. She will make her European debut in May in the world premiere in Italy of Casi il Destina Volle by Franco Pagani.

Singing the role of Pinkerton will be tenor Ronald Naldi, whose credits include the Metropolitan Opera, the New Jersey State Opera and opera companies of Hawaii and Mississippi. Baritone Elem Ely, a Princeton area resident, will portray Sharpless in this production.

Also in the cast is Gwendolyn Jones, resident mezzo-soprano with San Francisco Opera for 10 years. Others in the cast include bass-baritone Edward Bogusz, who will be double cast as The Bonze and Prince Yamadori; Timothy Mattocks, who will sing the role of Goro; baritone Paul Fogle as the Imperial Commissioner; and soprano Barbara Smith as Kate Pinkerton. Joseph Pucciatti will conduct the Boheme chorus and orchestra.

Prof. Walter Nollner To Conduct Haydn Work

In his last Richardson Auditorium performance as conductor of the Princeton University Glee Club and the Princeton University Chapel Choir, Professor Walter Nollner will conduct the groups in a single performance of Haydn's Creation on Saturday at 8 p.m. Replacing the originally scheduled Verdi Requiem, the Haydn will be sung with full orchestra and five soloists rather than the often-programmed three. Says Prof. Nollner, "Among the many reasons for the change of work was that, for my swan song, I preferred dealing with life rather than with death. The Haydn Creation is one of the most noble affirmations of life in the entire musical literature."

Written in the last few years of the 18th century, Haydn's work is scored for unusually full orchestra (including contrabassoon and a full complement of brass). In Parts I and II, the role of Gabriel will be sung by Susanne Fruehhaber, a voice major at Westminster Choir College and member of the Chapel Choir.

David Newman will sing the bass-baritone role of Raphael. A frequent performer in the area, his most recent appearances include concert performances of Pagliacci with Pavarotti and company. Singing the role of Uriel in the Haydn is tenor Brad Diamond, a recent graduate of the Choir College.

In Part III, the roles of Eve and Adam will be sung by Kathleen Figaro '92 and Rick Hoffenberg '94, both members of and soloists with the Chapel Choir. Mr. Hoffenberg is also assistant conductor and vice president of the Choir.

Conductor of the Glee Club since 1958 and the Chapel Choir since 1973, Prof. Nollner is looking forward to at least one year's respite from the rigors of conducting major choruses.

"My wife and I," he says, "if all our plans go well, will be living in Paris for the year '92-'93, simply enjoying life and not working at all! But we will then return to our home in Princeton, which we love, and see what the future holds. I have more than enough memories for one lifetime of working with extraordinary young people, and sharing with them the excitement of singing great choral music. My thanks go primarily to them for having made my last 34 years so rewarding."

Ticket information for the concert may be obtained by phoning 258-5000.

Canadian Singer/Writer To Perform Here Friday

Singer-songwriter Eileen McGann will present a concert of traditional and contemporary folk songs Friday at 8:t5 at Christ Congregation, 55 Walnut Lane. This event is sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society.

Ms. McGann is onc of Canada's foremost folk performers. In addition to being an interpreter of Celtic traditional music, she has written her own songs, including Man's Job and Isabella Gunn. A review in England's Folk Roots compared her songwriting talents with those of Fellow Canadian Stan Rogers.

Eileen McGann

Born in Toronto, she now lives in Calgary, Alberta, and has performed all over Canada, the U.S., and Great Britain. Her wide-ranging selection of the songs of Ireland and Scotland, her own celebrations of the northern wilderness, and calls for social and environmental justice include humorous views of male-female relationships, and incisive observations of urban angst and political ineptitude. She presents her songs with humor, passion and perspective in a clear, strong voice.

Admission to the concert is $10 for the general public, $7 for members of the Folk Music Society and affiliated organizations, $3 for children up to 11 years, and by donation for senior citizens. There are no advance sales; ample free parking is available.

For further information, 799-0944.

Opera at Rutgers Series To Stage Mozart Opera

Opera at Rutgers is presenting Mozart's comic opera Cosi fan tutte in English, at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday in the Nicholas Music Center of the Rutgers Arts Center, George Street at Route 18, New Brunswick.

The plot turns on the old philosopher Don Alfonso's efforts to persuade his two young friends that their swecthearts can't be trusted. ("Cosi fan tutte" means "Women are like that"). A series of comic twists and turns develop in which the men, abetted by the servant Despina, use disguises, entreaties and even feigned suicide to put the ladies to the test.

Da Ponte's famous libretto for Cosi will be sung in the English language translation by Ruth and Thomas Martin. Ms. Martin is expected to be present and recognized at one of the performances.

The Rutgers University Orchestra will be conducted by new faculty member Benton Hess, who has conducted more than 60 operas. The cast will feature Judith Burbank and Susan McAdoo as the sisters Fiordiligi and Dorabella. Both are doctoral candidates at the Mason Gross School of the Arts.

The cast will include John Swick and Mark Moliterno as the swains Ferrando and Guglielmo; Karen Pajak and Jennifer Alagna sharing the role of the maid Despina; and Jerrold Pope as Don Alfonso.

Tickets are $14 general admission, $12 for people 63 years and older and Rutgers faculty and staff and $7 for Rutgers students. For information or to charge tickets by phone, call the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office, (908) 932-7511.

OPERA AT RUTGERS will present Mozart's "Cosi fan tutte" In English on Friday and Saturday evenings this weekend in Nicholas Music Center of the Rutgers Arts Center. Susan McAdoo, left, as Dorabella, and Judith Burbank as Fiordiligi admire small portraits of their husbands, whom they are about to betray.

Original Student Work Of Music and Dance

The Program in Theater and Dance will present Speaking Speech Unspoken, an original production of music and dance composition conceived and created by Ruth Gerson '92 in conjunction with her thesis in the Department of Religion.

Performances will be on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 in the Hagen Dance Studio at 185 Nassau Street. Admission is free.

Speaking Speech Unspoken is a work in dialogue with Emmanuel Levinas, a contemporary Jewish existentialist writer. Ms. Gerson's piece reconstructs the feminine in one of Levinas' major works on ethics, Totality and Infinity, using the voice of the "daughter" as a point of departure. The work includes seven pieces: The Whistle Blower, The Writer, The Jew, Ipseity, Fecundity, The Eternal Femme, Metaphysics and Metaphor, Sorority and Speaking Speech Unspoken.

Student Cellist in Recital At McCarter Theatre

Cellist Matt Haimovitz, an internationally recognized concert artist and a member of the class of 1993 at Princeton University, will give a concert Monday at 8 at McCarter Theatre.

Matt Haimovitz

Accompanied by pianist Samuel Sanders, he will perform Beethoven's Sonata No. 3 in A; Britten's Solo Suite No. 1; Schumann's Adagio & Allegro; and Mendelssohn's Sonata No. 2 in D. Seats are still available.

Mr. Haimovitz came to public attention in 1985 when he joined Zubin Mehta and the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra in a concert that was filmed and broadcast by Israeli National Television. Since then, he has collaborated with such conductors as James Levine, Daniel Barenboim, Seiji Ozawa, Michael Tilson Thomas and Pinchas Zukerman with the leading orchestras of the world including the Cleveland Orchestra, Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic and the English Chamber Orchestra.

To order tickets, call the McCarter Theatre box office at 683-8000.

Benefit Concert Planned By Westminster Choir

Westminster Choir College will present its fifth annual gala benefit concert on Sunday at 3:30 in Richardson Auditorium. The concert will feature Arthur Honegger's King David performed by the Westminster Choir and Westminster Festival Orchestra, as well as works by Brahms, Ravel and Messiaen.

Frank Taplin will be the narrator in the King David. The soloists will be Laura Brooks Rice, mezzo-soprano and Lorna MacDonald, soprano. Lois Laverty will perform the role of the witch of Endor.

Proceeds of the gala concert will benefit the Westminster Choir College scholarship program. Tickets are $2,500, $1,000, $500, $250 and $100 for patron seating. General admission is $25 or $15. To order tickets, call the Westminster Choir College box office at 921-2663 weekdays 9 to 5 or the Richardson Auditorium box office at 258-5000 weekdays noon to 6.

Presslaff Quintet Set For Concert at Church

The Jeff Presslaff Quintet will perform a concert of original jazz compositions on Saturday at 8 in the Unitarian Church.

Mr. Presslaff has performed with jazz greats Benny Carter, Bill Baron and Ed Blackwell, as well as master South Indian flutist T. Viswanathan. His honors for composition include the Sacks Prize from Princeton University and a New Jersey Council on the Arts Individual Fellowship. His music for jazz ensembles, electronic media and theater has been performed throughout the northeast. The Quintet has recently released an album entitled Collective Unconsciousness.

Featured in the quintet for this concert will be Steve Nelson, jazz vibraphonist; drummer Ferdi Serim, who has backed up Dizzie Gillespie, Frank Foster and Bertha Hope; bassist Wilbo Wright, and trumpeter Pat Wristen.

The concert is the first of two evenings being presented by Hilltop Music at the Unitarian Church. The second concert will be on May 2. Information is available at 443-5772.

Correction

An article in the Music section of the April 1 TOWN TOPICS inadvertently mingled two separate events involving the Princeton Recorder Society and listed incorrect dates for both.

Recorder performer Pete Rose will give a preview concert of the recital at the Internationales Blockflöten-Symposion in Germany on Saturday, April 25, at 7:30 at Kingston Presbyterian Church. The concert is free, although proceeds from the suggested donation of $10 will be applied to Mr. Rose's trip expenses.

The Princeton Recorder Society will hold its annual workshop on Saturday.

IT'S NEW To Us

New Main Street Bistro Offers Informal Dining

For those who may not know, there is now a second Main Street. The popular Kingston food emporium and coffee house has a counterpart in the Princeton Shopping Center, which shows every sign of becoming just as much of a dining favorite as the original.

The new restaurant or bistro, as it is called, opened in February, and it offers lunch, dinner, and take-out. Unlike its Kingston partner, it also has a liquor license. Many people enjoy a glass of wine with dinner now, reports owner Sue Simpkins, and Main Street tries to offer a wide variety.

"Our philosophy on wine is to offer bistro wine that balances our menu," she explains. "We select the smaller vintners from all over the world who have superb wines at reasonable prices. We do not have pretentious wines. It's the whole bistro wine and food concept.

"On our menu, we also suggest a certain wine with a dinner," she continues. "We want people to learn about wines with us. Also, they can order by the glass, which is a nice way to try a new wine, and if they wish, they can buy a bottle to take home."

The wine notwithstanding, it is the food that has made Main Street such a standout. Since it opened in 1984, the Kingston coffeehouse has attracted those who were looking for home-cooked traditional dishes made from the healthiest ingredients. Now, the shopping center restaurant offers the same concept in eating.

"When we opened the Kingston store I really had an interest in offering the community some real food choices," explains Mrs. Simpkins. "There was nowhere to go to get healthy, wholesome, straightforward good food for working people. It's hard to manage a family, work, and cook, all at the same time.

Not Pretentious

"The most appealing thing about our food is that it is not pretentious," she adds. "It's made from scratch, with the finest, freshest ingredients, and it always tastes good. Also, we emphasize consistency. You know you can count on it. This has been a big part of Main Street's success."

Some of the most popular dishes at Main Street have been family recipes, reports Mrs. Simpkins, and others she has found on her travels. "The ribollita soup recipe we brought back from an Italian trip," she notes. "This is a hearty vegetable and bean soup served bistro style over grilled country bread with grated parmesan cheese, and it is a big winner."

Items from the grill are also very popular, she adds. "This is really our specialty, whether it's sandwiches, hamburgers, steak, or chicken. We have a delicious Black Angus steak, our hamburgers are special for lunch and dinner, and we also serve chicken florentine, and marinated shrimp, all from the grill."

The menu also includes a number of vegetarian dishes, and these are more and more in demand. "We have an excellent garden-style lasagne, as well as sun-dried tomato and smoked gouda ravioli, and a garden vegetable sandwich," says Mrs. Simpkins. "In addition, we always have three pastas, and the quiche and salad always sells out, too."

MAIN STREET MYSTIQUE: "We offer straightforward, healthy, unpretentious food made from scratch. It's a blend of American and other cuisines in a casual cafe setting. What we have is an attitude of eating, and a true bistro setting, where the community can feel at home." Sue Simpkins, owner of Main Street, which recently opened at the Princeton Shopping Center, is delighted with the enthusiastic reception her restaurant has received.

She also emphasizes the variety of freshly baked country breads served at Main Street. Sourdough, foccacia, raisin pumpernickel, and carrot herb, as well as the very popular bruschetta (grilled bread rubbed with fresh garlic and drizzled with extra fine olive oil), are among the choices.

Desserts include the favorite apple crisp (from a family recipe), carrot cake, cheese cake, Mississippi mud cake, and a super-dooper, delectable Main Street specialty, creme brulee.

Espresso, cappuccino, and latte are served, as well as tea and soft drinks.

Take Out Service, Also

Main Street also offers a full-scale take-out service, with a variety of prepared dishes, including several salads, entrees, breads, muffins, and desserts. Assorted gourmet spreads, dips, mixes, coffees and teas are also available, as are wines from France, Italy, Germany, Portugal, and California, among other areas.

The popular Main Street cookbook, Fresh Approach, with its special recipes and spaces for the cook's own notes and comments, will make a nice Mother's Day gift at $22.50, and there are also Main Street aprons and tote bags.

Main Street will also offer special menus for Easter and Mother's Day, reports Mrs. Simpkins. "We will have four seatings on Easter Day, and lamb, ham, fish, and vegetarian dishes will be served. It is best to call ahead for reservations."

Pre-theatre dinners are also in the planning stages, and they will be served downstairs in the wine cellar/restaurant. This charming, informal setting, embellished with 17th-century Italian-style murals, will be completed in May, and it will also be available for private parties. "We are still a work in progress," smiles Mrs. Simpkins.

The attractive decor of Main Street, with its black and white photographs and large posters of sports cars, has appealed to customers, who enjoy lingering over wine or coffee. There are tables and booths (actually Irish pine settles) and the bar, all of which create cozy niches, enhanced by the congenial atmosphere.

"We have tried to create a cafe ambiance, with interesting mood areas that flow into one another," says Mrs. Simpkins. "We always come back to the idea of a place that is appealing because of its attitude or lifestyle. It's something that feels good. We want people to feel comfortable and welcome.

"Also," she adds, "we are so happy — we have the best customers. There is the most amazing energy and blend. We have people from the University and all different walks of life, all ages and types. We have a group of very mellow people. And there is enough flexibility in price to attract a variety of people. We have lots of 'regular regulars', those who come in several times a week."

Prices at Main Street are the same for lunch and dinner, and range from $4.50 for a hamburger to $14.95 for Black Angus steak.

Location a Plus

Mrs. Simpkins points out that the shopping center location is a plus. "There is a real community feeling here, and of course, the parking is a great advantage. Also, we feel we have brought 'main street' to the shopping center.

"I enjoy the people contact so much," she continues. "Both the customers and the staff. We have become friends with many of the customers, and who could believe that we have gone from three employees in 1984 to 100 now (including the Main Street commissary in Rocky Hill, which prepares the food, and handles the catering operation). Main Street is truly a group effort. There are a lot of dedicated, very talented, wonderful people here, who help to create a special atmosphere."

Main Street is open for lunch Monday through Friday 11:30 to 2:30, Saturday and Sunday 11:30 to 5:30; for dinner, Monday through Thursday 5:30 to 9:30, Friday and Saturday 5:30 to 10, and Sunday 5:30 to 8.

Take-out hours are Monday through Friday 7:30 a.m. to 9, Saturday and Sunday 9 to 6.

Main Street does not take reservations except for groups of five or more, 921-2777.

Mobile Vet Service Provides Home Care

If your favorite canine or feline friend gets nervous about that annual visit to the vet, now there is an alternative. Dr. Miguel Cruz's Mobile Veterinary Service offers home care visits, and more and more customers are availing themselves of this service.

"People feel very good about someone coming to check on their pet," explains Dr. Cruz. "I really get to know both the owners and the pets. I enjoy a close relationship with them. They become more than just a client. It's a very friendly situation."

Dr. Cruz notes that his clients include handicapped and elderly individuals, who can not get out easily, as well as people who work all day, and those who simply prefer home visits.

Reduction of stress to the animal is one of the biggest advantages of home service, he believes. "It's important to remember you eliminate the stress to the animal, as well as to yourself. You avoid the car traveling time, the time spent waiting at the clinic, and the animal is much more relaxed. Also, you can use the time to do things at home.

"The animals are in a much better mood in their own environment," he adds. "We can have flexible examinations in the house, on the floor, on my lap, on a table, or in my truck."

VISITING VET: "I am offering complete medical and surgical service, and it is so personalized," explains Dr. Miguel Cruz, owner of Mobile Veterinary Service. "I can get to know the pet almost as well as the owner does. In their home setting, I can see things that you couldn't at the clinic. I see how the pet is at home, where it sleeps, where it spends time. Also, a home visit is much less stressful for the animal."

Ninety-five percent of the business consists of treating dogs and cats, he says, but he also sees rabbits, hamsters, and guinea pigs. Most of the time he is concerned with routine check-ups, vaccinations, and booster shots, but he is also equipped for emergencies.

Fifteen Minute Visits

A typical visit takes from 15 minutes to a half-hour. Dr. Cruz arrives in his specially-equipped mobile vet truck, which is furnished with anesthesia and dental machines, examining table, and a full complement of medications and supplies.

Dr. Cruz says that 70% of the pets are examined in the home, but for some who might be particularly protective of their own territory, the truck offers a neutral location. As he says, "Some animals are easier to handle in the house; others are more docile in the truck.

"I'll do a physical exam and check the heart, lungs, lymph nodes, abdomen, eyes, nose, etc., and give booster and rabies shots, and heart-worm medication. Now there is also a Lyme disease vaccination available for dogs. In addition, I can also do blood tests, and some tests like heartworm and leukemia can be checked right in the truck. You don't have to wait."

A native of Puerto Rico, Dr. Cruz graduated from the University of Missouri Veterinary School in 1986, receiving the D.V.M. He moved to New Jersey and practiced at Central Veterinary Hospital, the 24-hour emergency animal hospital in Columbus, and later in Hightstown.

"I was looking to open my own practice, however," he recalls. "I wanted to build up a clinic, and I wanted to stay in Mercer County."

When he saw an ad for a mobile vet unit, he realized that offering a convenient pet home health care program could be a real benefit for many pets and pet-owners. "I am basically the only mobile vet service in Mercer County," he says, "and also, it is very important to be associated with a hospital, as I am with Mercerville Animal Hospital in Mercerville.

"I do a lot of work in Princeton," he adds, "and I also go to Skillman, Pennington, and Montgomery, as well as parts of Burlington County and Pennsylvania, including New Hope."

He notes that among his patients are Seeing Eye dogs whom he sometimes visits in their owners' offices.

Emergency Number

Many pet owners are concerned about the possibility of emergencies and not being able to get help quickly. Dr. Cruz has a special emergency number, and he wears a beeper, so that he is always reachable. "I will always return any calls within the day, and I am available to treat my clients' emergencies. If necessary, I can perform emergency surgery in the truck."

He says that although most of his visits are routine, occasionally, he will encounter the unusual. "Animals will swallow all kinds of things," he explains. "I've had cats swallow rings and nickels and dimes, and dogs that swallowed keys. These had to be surgically removed."

Working so closely with the animals in the home setting offers a more personal relationship, and Dr. Cruz says he often becomes attached to the pets. He has many repeat customers now, many of whom he visits regularly.

"Some of them I've been treating for a long while, from the time they were puppies or kittens. I get to see them grow, just like a pediatrician. They know me, and they are glad to see me come. Also, many of the homes I visit have more than one pet, a dog and cat, two or more animals, and many of the owners like to tell you all about them. They really enjoy talking about their pets.

"I also find that the medical care that people give their pets is amazing," he adds. "People are very responsible, and they do the best they can for them. I keep all the records on the pets and also send out reminders for the check-ups. I'm very glad that I am in a position to help both the pets and the people."

A routine house call without inoculations is $45, and Dr. Cruz's hours are Monday through Friday 9 to 6, Saturday 12 to 5, as well as special evening appointments. 575-1797.

Who's Your Decorator?

Your friends, your family, they always know the best places, right? "No! Eat here." "No! Shop there."
Well, the worm has turned. You know Eileen Saums, the most terrific interior designer who specializes in popping eyeballs . . . and they don't.
Whether you want all new or mostly new, Eileen works with you until you end up with "the best" in interior design.
So are you going to tell them about Eileen Saums and let them play catch-up?
Of course you are, because the shade of green they turn when they visit doesn't match a thing in your whole house.

The Princeton branch of the American Association of University Women will meet Tuesday, April 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of Stark and Stark law offices, 993 Lenox Drive, Lawrenceville. The public is invited.

The speaker will be Diane Tracy, an author and president of Tracy Communications, a management consulting firm based in Princeton. She has appeared on more than 75 radio and television talk shows across the country.

Topics she will discuss include developing an idea into a book, securing an agent, working with publishing companies, and preparing a book proposal.

For reservations or further details, call Judy Satkowski at 275-1379 or Dorothy Boddeker at 275-6891.

The University League Nursery School will hold its annual pot luck supper Sunday at 5 on the seventh floor of New South Hall on the Princeton University campus.

All parents of currently enrolled students are urged to attend. There will be a brief meeting to vote on officers and school policies followed by the supper.

The Cercle Francais de Princeton will meet at 4 p.m. on Sunday in Bowl 5 of Robertson Hall, Woodrow Wilson School.

Prof. Leon-Francois Hoffmann, of the Princeton University department of Romance Languages, will give a lecture in French entitled "Le Vaudou Haitien."

Among Prof. Hoffmann's numerous books are Le Negre romantique, which in 1974 received a prize from the Academie Francaise; Le Roman haitien, a 1982 Gilbert Chinard award winner; and Haiti: couleurs, croyances creoles, revised in 1990.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

The Princeton Macintosh Users' Group will meet at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Woodrow Wilson School auditorium.

Joseph Treacy, a professional typeface designer, will discuss the art of typeface creation and demonstrate how he designs a new type font. Also, there will be a presentation on the special paper requirements of laser printers and considerations in selecting papers for offset printing.

The meeting is open to the public without charge, and visitors are invited to come an hour early if they have questions about the Macintosh or the group.

Call 258-1078 for further information.

ART

Craft Fair Is Planned At Community Center

Leyla Spencer and Debra Bahr, painted-silk artisans, will hold a craft fair on Saturday and Sunday in the Rocky Hill Community House, Route 518.

In addition to scarves, neckties, bags, and wall hangings, the show will feature at least a dozen other prominent crafters showing, selling, and demonstrating their work. Crafts on display will include wood-carving, hand-painted furniture, candy making, handmade toys, jewelry, musical instruments, traditional English smocking, and paper marbling.

There will also be a bake sale benefiting the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill.

Festival of Crafts will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. Admission is free.

Exhibits

This year's National Drawing Exhibition at Trenton State College, featuring both student and non-student artists from around the country, will run from April 15 through May 6 in the College Art Gallery. There will be an opening reception on April 15 from 5 to 7 p.m.

The exhibition, which takes place bi-annually, was coordinated by Bruce Rigby, an associate professor in the art department at the college. Thirty-seven drawings were selected from almost 600 submissions.

Gallery hours are Monday to Friday from 12 to 3, Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 1 to 3.

The tenth annual fine arts show, sponsored by the Carrier Foundation Auxiliary, will begin with a gala opening on Friday, April 24, from 7 to 11 p.m. in the Administration Building at Carrier Foundation, Belle Mead. Tickets to the opening, which will include a hot and cold buffet, are $25 each.

The juried show will feature works by many artists. The show will be open for general admission, $2, on the weekends of April 25 and May 2, Saturday and Sunday, noon to 4.

The Carrier Foundation Auxiliary is a community-based service organization that supports programs and education about emotional health and addiction treatment.

"ZOTZI" a crayon and gouache on paper, will be included in an exhibit of work by Stephen Guild at The Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School through May 1.

For more information, or to reserve a ticket for the opening, call the auxiliary office at (908) 281-1561.

In the fall of 1992, her work will be shown at the Cranbury Station Art Gallery.

An exhibition of work by the Princeton Artists Alliance will open Friday in the lobby of Scanticon-Princeton.

It will feature representational and abstract art by Joanne Augustine, Anita Benarde, Dorothy Bissell, Peter Cook, Geri De Paoli, Margaret Johnson, Robert Harvey, Susan Hockaday, Nancy Lee Kern, Marge Levine, Lore Lindenfeld, Elizabeth Lombardi, Pat Martin, Charles McVicker, Lucy Graves McVicker, Harry Naar, Barbara Osterman, Jeanne Pasley, Mike Ramus, David Raymond, Joy Saville, Joanne Scott, Marie Sturken, William Vandever, and Barbara Watts.

The exhibit will include a series of free lectures by participating artists, all held at the Scanticon from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

They are, "My Travels in Art," Charles McVicker, April 15; "The Painter's Eye — Still Life Perceived," Harry Naar, April 22; "What is Landscape?," Susan Hockaday, April 29; "and "Translating Foreign Images into Painting." Barbara Osterman, May 6.

For reservations, call 452-7800, reservations office.

The Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School is the site of Stephen Guild's first solo exhibit.

Color is the focus of Mr. Guild's one-man show, which is comprised of non-representational art in a serial format using crayon and gouache on paper. The artist explains that in his current work, "color constellations, reinforced by a horizontal, vertical or diagonal symmetry, emerge and then scatter, making way for other forms originally latent in the surface to come forward."

Mr. Guild was born in Washington, D.C., and attended Princeton University, where he earned an A.B. in art history. He is a resident of Rocky Hill and has been the proprietor of Arcturus Painting since 1976.

The show will continue through May 1 and is open to the public weekdays during gallery hours, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

———

Tapestries by Michelle Lester will be shown at the Chauncey Gallery of Educational Testing Service from April 15 through May 29.

Her tapestries have been most strongly influenced by her impressions and sketches of the Southwestern landscape, its forms, colors, and weather patterns.

A teacher at the Center for Tapestry Arts in Soho, Ms. Lester's works are in private collections worldwide.

Tucker Anthony, 100 Nassau Street, will present the watercolors of Cynthia Barten Girardet during the month of April.

ON EXHIBIT during the month of April at Tucker Anthony, Nassau Street, are watercolors by Cynthia Barten Girardet. The artist holds her painting of the Updike Barns in Cranbury.

"OPHELIA, 1965," a plaster mask by Jeanne Pasley, is included in an Princeton Artists Alliance exhibition, "Global Influences," at Scanticon-Princeton.

Princeton Baseball Splits Its First EIBL Doubleheaders; Men's Lacrosse Whips Yale, Women Lose, Softball Wins

Last week saw Princeton sports teams reach the highest highs and the lowest lows. Princeton set some NCAA records and also saw one of its own qualify for the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona with a victory in another country's national swimming meet.

Junior Nathalie Wunderlich heads up the group of highlights by winning the 200-meter backstroke and placing second in the 100-meter backstroke in the Swiss national Swimming Championships in Geneva, Switzerland. Wunderlich has dual citizenship with the United States and Switzerland.

SCOTT WAS SUPERB: It was a 14-6 final, but during a tight first half, Princeton lacrosse goalie Scott Bacigalupo made several outstanding saves to deny Yale. The Tigers broke the contest open in the third period, and won easily. (Andrea Chang photo, The Daily Princetonian)

SPORTS

Heading up Princeton in both categories would be the men's baseball team, which dropped two games to Yale in its Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League opener last Saturday at Clarke Field. It was an inauspicious debut for the Tigers, the EIBL defending champions. The baseball team would rebound with a record-breaking performance against Columbia on Sunday in a twinbill sweep.

The women's softball team replicated the opposite feats of the baseball team, posting a shutout sweep of Harvard on Saturday only to fall to national power Connecticut twice on Sunday without notching a run of its own.

The men's lacrosse team, ranked sixth in the nation, flexed its muscles against 15th-ranked Yale, cruising past the Elis 14-6. The offensive attack was led by Senior Justin Tortolani, who tallied six goals in the easy win for the Tigers.

The women's lacrosse team, on the other hand, has had its troubles since ascending to the No. 1 ranking in the nation. The first game after being rated first, the team was crushed by Harvard. It rebounded to win its next two games easily over Lehigh and Lafayette. However, this weekend saw another reversal of the team's fortunes, as it dropped its second Ivy League contest, this time to Dartmouth, 6-3.

Tennis split along the same lines this weekend as the men easily surpassed Yale, 6-0, while the women struggled and lost to the Elis, 5-4. The men remain undefeated in the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

In another one of the many highs, the men's volleyball team won the Ivy Tournament this weekend held in New Haven, Conn. Three members of the squad placed on the first team All-Ivy, including sophomore John Hutchinson, junior Mark Hutman and junior Morgan McKinzie, with freshman Brian Baise earning a spot on the second team.

The men's golf team finished second at the Tiger Shootout, a makeup of the Army Invitational, which was cancelled due to poor weather conditions. The golfers used the home field advantage to their favor, beating both Army and St. John's, who were ahead of the Tigers and tied with them in the Eastern rankings respectively. Princeton is ranked fifth.

Both the men's and women's crew had successful outings on Lake Carnegie. The men heavyweights won all four of their races against Rutgers; the women swept five against the Scarlet Knights.

The men also participated in a tri-meet with Rider and Rutgers, and like the women's meet, no team scores were kept. However, out of the 27 events ran, Princeton walked away with 14 first places and nine seconds.

Baseball Burned by Yale

The men's baseball team did not accomplish what it set out to do this weekend. With the burden of being EIBL champions on its back, Princeton did not play well against a Yale team that has already had one weekend of league play under its belt.

The starting pitching faltered for the Tigers as Yale went on to win both games of the doubleheader 10-5 and 8-7. The Elis hit junior pitcher Harry Gutheil early, knocking him out of the game after just 1⅔ innings pitched. Yale scored five hits and runs off Gutheil, who also walked three batters. Sophomore pitcher Michael Jordan followed with little success as well.

In his one inning, Jordan allowed one hit and four earned runs. After 2½ innings the score stood at Yale 9 - Princeton 0. The Elis coasted from that point to the 10-5 win.

The second game started much like the first, with sophomore pitcher Jason Garman taking his licks this time. In three innings Garman was tagged for 10 hits and six earned runs while the Elis scored seven runs to take an early, 7-0, lead.

Princeton came back, led by a four-run fourth inning and gave Yale all it could handle, scoring a run in the bottom of the seventh to cut the lead to one, but could not manage one more, and dropped the second game to Yale as well. Yale improved its record to 4-2 in the EIBL, while Princeton dropped to 0-2.

The next day, Princeton refused to be run out of the race early, taking out all of its aggressions in a huge way against Columbia. In the first game, with most of the damage coming in the second inning, Princeton decimated the Lions 23-1, then followed with a modest 7-3 win, improving its EIBL record to 2-2.

In the fateful second inning, Princeton tattooed Columbia for an NCAA record 17 runs and 16 RBIs in the inning. Leading the pack on the day was junior second baseman Dan Puskas, who homered and tripled in the inning, knocking in five runs. In the game Puskas, the N.J. Coaches Association Player of the Week, was four-of-four from the plate with seven RBIs.

Senior first baseman and tri-captain Peter Noone had two doubles for the game, knocking in four runs of his own. Senior designated hitter and tri-captain Kevin Butterfield was the other Tiger to homer, and he, like Noone, had four RBIs in the game.

This time the starting pitching was there in a big way as junior pitcher Matt Iseman went the distance, scattering eight hits and allowing only one run. Iseman picked up his second victory of the season, improving his record to 2-1.

Junior pitcher Todd Taylor replicated the efforts of Iseman in the second contest. Taylor also went the distance, allowing three runs but only five hits. Puskas added two more RBIs in the closer and senior shortstop and tri-captain Sean Sullivan was a perfect three-for-three in the closing game, also adding two RBIs.

Softball Splits Also

Led by the pitching tandem of sophomore pitchers Karen Drill and Lisa Moore, the women's softball team shut out the Crimson 5-0 and 10-0 last Saturday. Moore pitched the opener and struck out eight to match the eight hits she allowed in picking up her 10th victory of the season.

Drill was even sharper in the nightcap, allowing just one hit in five innings, striking out 12 and walking just one. The second game was cut short after six innings, due to the 10-run mercy rule.

Freshman catcher Tara Pignoli starred on offense, hitting four of the five times she arrived at the plate, knocking in two RBIs. Senior third baseman and captain Leslie Silverman was once again the team's power hitter, knocking in four runs on the day.

As overpowering as Princeton was on Saturday, it was overmatched on Sunday against Connecticut. Princeton met the Huskies pitch for pitch, but at the plate the Tigers could not handle the Connecticut pitching. The Tigers managed a meager four hits in 17 innings against UConn.

Once again for Princeton, the duo of Drill and Moore pitched. Moore took the loss in the opener, allowing three runs in the seventh in a 4-0 loss. Drill dropped a heartbreaker in the nightcap when Connecticut centerfielder Janna Venice smacked a Drill pitch to left-centerfield that allowed Venice to circle the bases for an inside-the-park homerun for the 1-0 victory in extra innings.

Tortolani Scores 100th

The men's lacrosse team beat its league-rival and 15th-ranked Yale 14-6. Senior attackman Justin Tortolani led the attack with six goals. In the game Tortolani notched his 100th career goal and now is currently second on Princeton's all-time goal scoring list, behind Wich Sollers, who scored 114 between 1975-77.

The game wasn't always out of reach. The two teams traded goals early on, eventually being knotted at three goals apiece. The Tigers finally pulled away for good. Tortolani had a hat trick early in the game when the contest was close, and then another hat trick in the fourth quarter to ice the game.

The Yale team likes to capitalize on the opponent's mistakes, but the more talented Princeton squad played a highly controlled game, and never gave the Elis the opportunity to take control.

The No. 3-Princeton women's squad did not fare as well against an Ivy foe, dropping its second consecutive Ivy contest, this time a 6-3 decision at the hands of the Dartmouth Big Green. Princeton could only manage one goal in the first half, and then in the second with Dartmouth up 4-1, freshman midfielder Emily Krause cut the lead to two, but Dartmouth scored just 36 seconds later to put the lead back up to three and ice the game.

The golf team rode sophomore Greg Wolfe's 77 to second place in the Tiger Shootout. Winner Seton Hall had three of the four top scorers, with Wolfe in a three-way tie for second place individually. Princeton was ranked fifth in the Eastern rankings, tied with St. John's and a place behind Army. The Tigers defeated both of those squads on the way to their second-place finish.

The men's volleyball team coasted to an easy Ivy League Tournament championship, not even dropping a game along the way. Princeton blasted past Columbia in the first round, 15-3, 15-3. The Tigers then swept past Cornell and Yale in the round-robin section of the tournament. In the semifinals, the Tigers cruised to matching 15-3 games over the Crimson to enter the finals.

In the finals, the Tigers beat Penn 15-8, 15-10 to clinch the impressive five-game sweep of the tournament.

Senior captain and No. 1-singles player Greg Hartch swept past Rob Pohly of Yale 6-4, 6-3, and the rest of the men's team followed in a devastating 6-0 sweep of Yale.

The women's tennis team split the six singles matches with Yale, but then dropped the first two doubles matches before going down 6-3 against the Elis.

—Patrick Mesa

Summit a Little Too Fast For PHS Lax Women

"They're a good team. They're fast," said Princeton High lacrosse coach Joyce Jones of visiting Summit, who outhustled her Little Tigers Friday for an 11-7 win.

"We couldn't get the goals we needed," added Jones, who despite the opening loss said, "Overall, I thought it was a good, solid game."

Summit's second win in two starts was built on a simple strategy: they beat PHS to the ball. "They beat us to the ball two to one," agreed Jones. "We have to hustle for those ground balls. ft's like we were in the stands and not on the field."

Jones was unable to come up with a reason for the team's hesitation other than chalking it up to inexperience. "They were able to score on our mental mistakes but we were not able to score on theirs."

Accordingly, Jones said the team will work on its midfield passing for its next opponent, Peddie. "We were not able to find our free players and create scoring opportunities."

The game will be played this Wednesday in Hightstown. On Friday, the Little Tigers will visit newcomer Villa Joseph Marie.

Jones said that she is anticipating every game from here on to be tough and she hopes to have her players play up to that kind of competition. "Nothing is going to be given to us. We're going to have to earn our wins."

4 for Bustamante, Holzer

Carolina Bustamante and Jessica Holzer each scored twice for PHS, but that was offset by Summit's Jen Joinnedes, who scored five goals. Michelle Brophy, Carrie Gleeksman and Myke Drayer added single tallies for the Blue and White. Summit outscored PHS 6-3 in the second half.

Jones started junior Erin Davis in goal and she had four saves before she was replaced midway in the second half by another junior, Robin Norris. Both are learning the position.

PHS Nine to Host Rams, Face Hun on Saturday

Hopeful that his team's initial outing against Steinert is not going to be indicative of the rest of the season, first-year baseball coach Jason Petrone will lead his Little Tigers into back-to-back contests this weekend. Hightstown will be here Friday for a 3:45 contest and town rival Hun will visit the PHS field on Valley Road for a Saturday morning game starting at 11. Earlier this week, the Little Tigers were scheduled to visit Hopewell Valley High in Pennington.

STICKS UP: Princeton High's Gretchen Strauss (65) and Jenny Zar (50) in white try to contain a Summit player as Shara Durkee (60) comes up to assist. Visiting Summit, however, was too quick for Little Tigers en route to a 11-7 win on Friday.

As it is, Princeton High has yet to play a full game. Last week's opener against Princeton Day School was halted after an inning and a half because of rain — with the Little Tigers ahead. No new date has been set yet.

A day later on Thursday, the Little Tigers tried again and again the weather did not cooperate. The game was ended after 5½ innings because the temperature had dropped into the 20s and snow began to fall. Unfortunately, the game was official and the Spartans posted a lopsided 17-1 win after the Little Tiger pitching collapsed.

"I was pretty happy with our fielding and batting; our pitching just let us down," said Petrone. His big concern, he said, is he doesn't want the players to get into a mode where they think they are going to lose every game.

Despite the cold weather, PHS started well against Steinert. "We fielded well and we made good contact at the plate," said Petrone. The Little Tigers had a man on second in both the first and second innings but failed to score; the runner was picked off second in one instance.

Meanwhile PHS starter Darren Horangic pitched out of trouble in the first inning and his teammates turned a double play to bail him out in the second, holding the Spartans to one run.

In the third ... "Horangic just lost it. He started walking and hitting batters," said Petrone. By the time he was taken out, Steinert led 7-0 and the bases were loaded. Petrone called on third baseman Doug Chang to take the mound.

Chang was allowed eight warmup pitches but it was so cold he told Petrone that he couldn't feel the ball. He proceeded to walk three in a row, gave up two hits and left after a third of an inning with Steinert up 11-0.

Jeff Spies came on and was reached for five hits and six runs including five in the fifth. He walked only two. When Spies came on Petrone estimated the temperature had dropped to 30; by the time the game was called and snow was falling, Petrone said the temperature was down to about 25 degrees.

PHS Netmen Are 2-0; Hun Puts Up Battle

The Princeton High tennis team breezed past Steinert 5-0 in its opener last week without the loss of a single set. But the next day, Friday, the Hun School did not go easily.

The Little Tigers won 4-1 to get off to a 2-0 start but three of the matches went to three sets. Princeton's number-one player, George Khalaf, had the easiest time on the court, defeating the Raiders' Adam Epstein, 6-2, 6-0. At second singles, Princeton's Jason Cohen won the first set 6-4 over Justin Bilik, dropped the second 3-6 but rallied to win the third, 6-3, and the match. Brent Breithaupt handled Hun's Chris Hosking 6-1 in the opening set of their third singles match but then had to win the second in a tie-breaker, 7-6 (7-3).

Both doubles matches went to three sets. PHS won the first doubles behind Phil Scott and Dan Wang, who outlasted Mike Seegers and Matt Shaine, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1. Hun captured its only match at second doubles where Brian Kish and Adam Peters defeated Princeton sophomores Mike Kestenbaum and Chris Simmons 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

In a busy week ahead, PHS will visit Hightstown this Wednesday, a strong Lawrenceville team on Thursday and McCorristin on Friday before hosting Peddie on Monday. All four matches start at 3:45.

PHS Netmen Win Third: Hopewell High Falls, 5-0

The Princeton High boys' tennis team swept past Hopewell 5-0 Monday without losing a set.

The win was the third in a row for the unbeaten Little Tigers.

fn singles play, George Khalaf did not lose a single game, second singles Jason Cohen lost one and Brent Breithaupt lost three in defeating Rick Turner, 6-0, 6-3.

Both PHS doubles won easily, Phil Scott and Dan Wang triumphing 6-2, 6-0 over Mike Reger and Sam Bayard and Mike Kestenbaum and Chris Simmons taking the Bulldogs' Chris Hart and Kurt Birkenhagen, 6-1, 6-2.

Big Test This Friday For PHS Lacrosse Team

The jury is still out on how good the Princeton High lacrosse team is but some telling evidence will be presented Friday when the Little Tigers entertain a perennially strong Westfield team. Starting time for the contest, Princeton's fourth home game in a row, is 4.

Earlier in the week, PHS was scheduled to meet town rival Hun School. In its first two games under first-year coach Dave Karch, the Little Tigers spanked West Windsor, 12-6, behind Phil Garza's five goals, and then failed to hang on to an early lead in bowing to rival Princeton Day School, 5-4, on Friday.

"If we can regroup — that was a tough loss losing to a town rival — if we can play as a team both on offense and defense, if we play smarter, if we play together, then I like our chances against Westfield," said Karch.

Against Westfeld, Karch said he will try to slow it down and continue to emphasize ball control. "We don't have the numbers to play with them. They're pretty tough."

Good Start

PHS got off to a good start in its opener against West Windsor. After the visiting Pirates jumped to a 2-0 lead, Karch called time to get his players "refocused. Once we settled in and got our transition game going we were okay."

From that 2-0 first-period deficit, the Little Tigers scored the next six goals to take a 6-2 halftime lead and then went on to outscore WW 6-4 in the second half.

Garza was the top offensive threat for PHS with five goals while John Hagios and Jared Bilanin added two goals each. Drew Massie, Brendan Branon and Dan Fernholz scored single goals.

The game with rival Princeton Day School was, in Karch's words, "quite a doozie. Unfortunately, we came out on the losing end." Added Karch, "I think they are a better team than people give them credit for; they played well as a team."

PHS dominated the first period, taking a 1-0 lead on Branon's goal and upping it to 2-0 when Garza's shot dribbled past Panther goalie Jud Henderson.

A more detailed description of the game appears elsewhere in this issue but Karch commented that the Panthers, playing in their first start, were able to give their best shooters (Mark Trowbridge and Pat Kerney) shots on man-up situations. "To their credit they took advantage of it."

PRINCETON DAY ON THE ATTACK: Brian Ferber (13) and Patrick Regan (45) work in close on the Princeton High goal in first period action of Friday's game. Defending for the Little Tigers are Jon Meslin (34) and Jamie Johnson (17).

In contrast, Karch said his team's settled offense was caught standing around on too many occasions. When PDS was double and triple-teaming Garza, who was setting up plays from behind the net, the players didn't understand they had to help out, said Karch.

"Plus, we had a lot more penalties. We have to play a little smarter."

Garza ended with two goals. Branon had one and Ricky Vernon had one for PHS. Vernon's unassisted goal in the final period had tied the score at 4.

PDS Lacrosse Starts Well Defeating PHS and Hun

Perhaps with memories of its bitter 3-2 loss to Seton Hall Prep in the semifinals of last May's Prep B Tournament still fresh, the Princeton Day lacrosse team opened its season beating a pair of town rivals.

The Panthers knocked off Princeton High, 5-4, last Friday, and on Monday defeated Hun, 10-4. Off to a 2-0 start, PDS has already avenged the loss to PHS a year ago. However, it won its first nine last spring, before fading at the end.

Like last year, the Blue and White will be hoping to continue its early success this week in two contests on the road. It will face Pingry on Wednesday and Manasquan High School Friday.

Mark Trowbridge led the way against Hun with four goals in the first half, as the Panthers built a 5-2 lead. PDS locked up the game with four tallies in the third period, taking a 9-3 lead into the final quarter. Trowbridge added his fifth goal in the second half, Brian Ferber had a pair, and Matt Shaffer, Dan Knipe and Pat Kerney, one apiece. Todd Coyer had three of Hun's four goals, Will Tate got the other.

Last Friday's game against the Little Tigers, the opener for both teams, caught both still trying to work out the kinks, but neither needed any motivation to play hard. Playing at home, PHS controlled the first period and opened a 2-0 lead on goals by Brendan Branon and Phil Garza.

But by the second quarter the momentum had shifted to PDS, and it tallied three consecutive goals. Trowbridge pumped in a pair, and Patrick Regan added a third, to give PDS a 3-2 lead at the intermission. In the third period, Princeton High rebounded with the only goal scored, getting another from Garza to produce a 3-3 deadlock.

In the fourth period, PDS took a 4-3 lead when Kerney scored his first of two man-up goals. Ricky Vernon retaliated for the Little Tigers, beating his defender and getting an open shot to bring about another tie.

As time wound down, the contest seemed headed for overtime, but PDS was given another man-up situation when Princeton's Jared Bilanin had to serve a 30-second holding penalty. Working the ball around the PHS goal, the Panthers found Kerney open again and he had time to pick his spot for the winning goal, and a 5-4 triumph.

PDS outshot the Little Tigers 16 to 13, and Jud Henderson had nine saves for the Panthers, while PHS's Noah Harlan made 10.

PHS Girls Win 2 Events In Mercer County Relays

In the annual Mercer County Relays held on Saturday and Monday this year at Steinert High, the Princeton High girls won two events. The Little Tiger boys were shut out.

The girls' competition was held Saturday afternoon, after the scheduled boys' competition in the morning which had been postponed from the previous day because of predicted cold weather. For PHS, Ruth Williams and Laura Wedham combined to win the discus by a wide margin, 179-0 feet compared to the 153-11 effort by second-place Steinert.

Princeton also enjoyed a sizeable winning margin in the shot put, where Williams and Ailey Penningroth had a combined 70-3 effort. Second-place Notre Dame was a distant second at 59-10¾. The Little Tigers also finished second in the javelin.

Trenton High dominated the relays by winning seven of the 14 events.

The PHS boys failed to win an event on Monday but finished second in the distance medley and second in the sprint medley. Hun School won the high jump, Courtney Fitch and Tom Ross clearing a combined 12-8. That was almost a foot higher than the 11-10 by second-place Ewing.

Notre Dame and Steinert were the top performers in the event.

Opening Tri-Meet

In an opening tri-meet Thursday at Ewing, the PHS boys routed McCorristin 105-23, but lost to the host Blue Devils, 79-52. Andrew Callegari and Tim O'Brien were double winners for PHS. Callegari won the 800 and 1,600 races while O'Brien captured the pole vault with a vault of 10-0 and the javelin.

BRANON BATTERED: Princeton High's Brendan Branon, in white jersey, is surrounded by five PDS defenders, as he tries to score in first-period action in Friday's contest. Branon scored a goal in 5-4 PHS loss.

Teammate Dave Patterson won the 3,200 in 10:38 — a winning margin of 13 seconds.

The PHS girls thumped Ewing, 77-45, as the versatile Penningroth won three events: the 110 hurdles, the 800 and the shot put. Cara Boyles won the 1,600 and 3,200 distance races. Ariel Goettinger of PHS captured the 400 hurdles.

Williams won both of her strong events — the discus and the javelin, both by ten-foot margins.

Margaret Darnton, Goettinger, Cathy Neuger and Penningroth combined to win the 1,600 relay by less than a second, 4:39.6 to 4:38.7.

Hun Teams Are Both 1-1 After Lacrosse Play

Both the Hun boys' and girls' lacrosse teams split their first two games last week.

First-year boys' coach Steve Czelusniak and the Raiders got off to a rousing start when Hun upset Pennington School, 13-10. Pennington had been favored because most of its players were back from last year.

Playing on a wet and slippery field, Hun was led by Todd Coyer and Chris Walsh, both of whom scored four goals. Dave White and Will Tate added a pair of goals apiece, as Hun outscored the Red Raiders, 8-5, in the second half. Hun goalie Mike Conover had ten saves.

Hun saw its record even on Saturday in Blairstown when it lost a 7-6 overtime decision. With the score knotted at 6 at the end of regulation, Blair scored 16 seconds into overtime on a goal by Alex Hassman for its first win in two starts.

Coyer was a standout offensive threat again for Hun with three goals. Senior Mark Krause added two goals and Walsh one.

After a scheduled meeting with Princeton High early in the week, Hun will visit Bridgewater West on Friday and host Hunterdon Central on Tuesday.

Girls Reverse Pattern

The girls reversed the pattern of the boys, bowing to West Windsor, 18-6, in their opener and then defeating Peddie on Friday, 9-4, for new coach Annie Carter's first win. Senior Susie Markson was the top scorer for Hun in both contests.

The Pirates' Michelle Kane single-handedly outscored Hun, netting five of her nine goals in the first half when West Windsor bolted to a commanding 13-3 lead. Straya Volla scored twice and Becky Jenson once for Hun, which was outshot 29-9.

Things turned around quickly for Hun, particularly in the second half, in its win over Peddie. Down 3-2 at halftime, Hun outscored the Falcons 7-1 in the second half. Markson was the big gun for Hun again with four goals.

Alicia Klosowski added a pair of goals and Jensen, Volla and Mary Pat McDonald contributed single goals. Hun goalie Judy Persichetti had 21 saves for the Raiders.

After a scheduled game with Hopewell High, Hun will visit Blair on Saturday and host Pingry on Tuesday at 3:45.

Hun Nine Wins, Loses; Big Red, PHS Are Next

In defeating Blair, 13-4, in last week's home opener and then losing to Peddie, 9-2, on Friday, Hun baseball coach Bill McQuade commented that, overall, he was not disappointed.

"I did not expect a lot in weather like that," added the veteran coach. It was raining for the opener and bitter cold for the Peddie game.

"I'm more concerned about our young pitchers staying in there," added McQuade. "They've got to throw strikes. There've been too many walks. In high school ball whenever you walk a guy it seems he ends up scoring."

Hun's largely untested mound staff will be put to the test this week. It will be a busy one, starting with a game this Wednesday at 3:30 against visiting Lawrenceville School on Hun's refurbished and resplendent field. McQuade promises a showcase facility for anyone coming to see the Raiders play.

The following day Hun will travel to Steinert High and then make the short trip across town on Saturday morning for a contest at 11 with Princeton High. Both McQuade and PHS's new coach Jason Petrone are former Princeton High players. On Monday, Hun will host Pingry in a 3:45 meeting.

Ferrara Gets Win

Jeff Ferraro pitched the first three innings to get the win over Blair. He yielded one hit, struck out four and walked three.

"For a sophomore getting his first turn he did a nice job," said McQuade. Freshman Mike Geiger came on "to get his feet wet." Kris Uhlhorn, who finished up on the mound, was touched for a three-run homer.

Hun was led at the plate by Matt Keenan who rapped three hits in four at bats and by Orin Wilf who went 3-for-3.

Against Peddie, Hun starter Danny Wilson had control problems from the start. He walked three of the first four batters he faced. After a groundout plated Peddie's first run, Jay Kurland lined to center, the ball just avoiding a diving attempt by Hun centerfielder Uhlhorn for a two-run triple.

Hun had scored a single run in the first on a walk to Uhlhorn, a stolen base and Miller's RBI single. In the top of the fifth Hun managed to cut Peddie's lead to 4-2 with another run without a hit. (Hun had only two.) It came off an error, fielder's choice, walk and wild pitch. With the bases jammed with Hun runners, reliever Sean Gilbert fanned Wilson to end the threat. "We just didn't get the big hit," said McQuade.

Peddie collected only four hits off Wilson and his reliever, Uhlhorn, both of whom went three innings, but the Falcons hit for the cycle: single, double, triple and a towering, three-run homer to left field by shortstop Jeff Topchik in the sixth inning.

Between them, Wilson and Uhlhorn walked seven. Uhlhorn hit a batter and committed a balk. "Our pitching staff is still a question mark," concluded McQuade.

Field Hockey Camp Planned at PDS in June

Princeton Day School has scheduled its first annual field hockey summer camp for girls ages 8 through 15.

Offered for one week from June 15 to 19, the session will run from 1 to 3 p.m. Instruction in individual skills will be stressed throughout the week and athletes will be able to work in small groups on appropriate skills according to their level of experience. Fundamentals of positional play will be taught in tactical sessions as well as in coached games.

Instructors will include Jill Thomas, PDS varsity field hockey coach, and Kim Bedesem, PDS junior field hockey coach. Tuition for the week is $75 which includes instruction, a T-shirt and ball.

Further information may be obtained from Mark Adams, director of PDS summer programs, at 924-6700.

PDS Tennis Wins Three; Will Meet Hun Thursday

Rome Campbell's tennis team got off to its usual good start last week as Princeton Day won its first three matches, losing just one individual match in the process.

The competition will become more difficult this Thursday when the Blue and White faces off against Hun at home. Morristown-Beard will visit Friday and Pingry on Monday in a stretch of eight straight home matches.

The Panthers topped Hopewell Valley, 5-0, last Thursday, with everybody but second doubles winning in straight sets. Freshman Hayden Aaronson won his first varsity match, 6-3, 6-3. Marc Wirstrom was victorious at number two singles, 7-5, 6-2; and Jason Bilanin took the third singles match, 6-1, 6-4.

In doubles play, Dan Ragsdale and Mike Brown won two close sets at number one, 7-5, 6-4. Chris Sheldon and Pat Meehan dropped the first set of their match, 6-3, but rallied to capture the next two by the same score.

The following day against Wardlaw-Hartridge, Aaronson played a good first set against the visitors' top player, Arjun Viswanathan, ranked 12th in the country, before losing, 7-5. Viswanathan then sailed through the second, 6-0.

Wistrom and Bilanin also had tough matches, but pulled them out in three sets, both losing the second set. Ragsdale and Brown and Sheldon and Meehan had little trouble disposing of their opponents in straight sets, losing just five games between them.

Saturday's match against Pennington was a walk over with no PDS player or team losing more than one game to the Raiders.

WHO KNOWS what's going on in Princeton? People who read TOWN TOPICS, of course.

Alby Toto Leading Panther Golf Team

Alby Toto has been as hot as the weather has been cold, leading the Princeton Day golf team to victories in its first two matches.

A week ago Wednesday, Toto shot a 44 as the Panthers opened their season by defeating Newark Academy, 250 to 259. Playing on the Bedens Brook Club course, Dan Bushell followed with a 46; John Leahy had a 49, Scott Anzel, 54; and Mike Wilde, 57.

On Friday against Steinert on the BBC course, Toto lowered his nine-hole total to 42. Bushell, Leahy and Anzel also posted lower scores, shooting 44, 45 and 46, respectively. John Stitzer, playing in his first match, shot a 49.

Hun Defeats Hopewell 8-3 in Baseball Monday

Hun coach Bill McQuade used four pitchers and Hun batters rapped out 11 hits as the Raiders defeated Hopewell Valley, 8-3, Monday in Pennington for their second win in three games.

Kris Uhlhorn, the second Hun hurler, who pitched three innings and allowed just two hits and no runs, was the winning pitcher. Sophomore Jeff Ferraro started the game and held Hopewell to one run in the first three innings. Mike Geiger and Danny Wilson finished up, both pitching less than an inning.

Ahead 2-1, after three innings, Hun put the game away with three runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth.

Catcher and former Ewing player Rich Marchetti had three of Hun's 11 hits and DH Jeremy Skule drove in three runs on two hits. Rick Zoffinger homered and Uhlhorn doubled for Hun, which stranded 13 baserunners.

The loss was the second in a row without a win for coach Stan Davis's Bulldogs.

PDS Baseball Splits Two; To Play Pennington Next

The Princeton Day baseball team suffered from a split personality in its first two games last week.

Last Friday, the Panthers looked like the defending Prep B champions they are, beating Wardlaw-Hartridge, 6-1. Twenty-four hours later, they resembled an 8-year-old teeball team, losing to Montclair Kimberley, 8-0. This Wednesday, they'll hope to return to championship form against Pennington, in a key Prep B matchup. Friday they'll also be on the road against Nottingham, and Saturday, home against Rugers Prep.

Coach Paul Brown's team, which ended its season last May with a victory over Wardlaw for the Prep B crown, began the '92 campaign with another win over the Rams.

Senior Michael Laudenberger went the distance, allowing just two hits, striking out two and issuing one base on balls. The Panthers managed just four hits of their own, and led just 2-1 going into the bottom of the sixth.

Wes Robinson broke the game open with a bases-loaded double that drove in three, and the Blue and White added a fourth tally for a 6-1 final. Brian Mauney had a triple and two runs scored, David Jackson contributed a double and an RBI, and Laudenberger helped his cause with a hit on which a run scored.

On Saturday, the PDS bats were effectively silenced by Montclair's Jim Ringwood, who allowed just three hits while striking out 10. That happened to be two more hits than starting pitcher Scott Feldman and reliever Greg Glassner allowed, but they were victimized by seven teammate errors that made all MKA runs unearned.

Laudenberger, Glassner and Matt Varhley had the PDS hits, but the Panthers could not string anything together offensively. "Our fielding was not characteristic of what we can do," noted Brown. "We had trouble with routine ground balls, and made several throwing errors."

The loss broke a PDS streak of 11 consecutive victories against Prep B foes.

PDS Girls' Lacrosse Tops Pingry in Opening Game

Just as it did a year ago, the Princeton Day girls' lacrosse team opened its season with a victory over Pingry. This time the Panthers prevailed, 12-8, on a chilly Friday afternoon.

And just as they did a year ago the Panthers will next face three tough prep schools — Lawrenceville, Greenwich Academy and Taft — beginning with the Larries in a contest scheduled for this past Tuesday. They will travel to Conneticut this weekend to play the last two. The next home contest will be Monday against Morristown-Beard.

"After this weekend, I'll know what we're made of," commented coach Kim Bedesem, who is hoping for a different result than the three consecutive losses suffered last season. The Blue and White managed to squeeze out a winning record, 7-6, last spring, and Bedesem would like to see her team begin at the level it reached last May and move up from there.

Bedesem was pleased with what she saw against Pingry — some good passing plays, the defense starting to understand its responsibilities, and a good attitude in the cold weather.

PDS was never behind, but the visitors pressured the whole way, and remained in contention until the end. Sarah Berkman provided half the offense, scoring six goals and assisting on two others.

Jesse Eaton contributed three, and Sharon Thomas, Marcy Webster and Megan Bencze, one apiece.

Golf Classic to Benefit Scholarship Fund

What qualified college-bound student hasn't experienced that hollow feeling when all the personal funds, college grants, loans, state and federal aid are added up and the total is still short of the cost of tuition?

For more than 20 years, the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation has helped to send hundreds of Princeton High School seniors to college with "bridge scholarships" that enable students to bridge the monetary gap that remains when all other sources have been exhausted.

The Foundation is supported by contributions from friends, parents, local businesses and organizations and major foundations and corporations. A generous supporter and fundraiser over the years has been the Annual Princeton Golf Classic.

Alan Haines and Jim Tees are this year's co-chairmen of the Golf Classic Committee, which has announced that its seventh Annual Princeton Golf Classic for the benefit of the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation will be held June 1 at the Springdale Golf Club.

GOLF CLASSIC CO-CHAIRMEN: Co-chairmen of the 7th Annual Princeton Golf Classic which will be held June 1 at Springdale Golf Club are Alan Haines (left) and Jim Tees. They are welcomed to Springdale by club member Tom Petrone (right). To date, the event has raised $225,000 for scholarships for needy Princeton High School seniors. Anyone wishing to participate in the Classic or make a contribution can call Mr. Petrone at 452-9292.

Last year, the Classic raised more than $40,000 to help PHS students attend college; since its inception it has raised $225,000 for scholarships for needy students, according to Tom Petrone of the Springdale Club.

Princeton businesses also support the Golf Classic by donating gifts, food and services to assure that every possible dollar raised by the event is directed to the students.

The need for financial help to deserving students is as great as ever. Firms or individuals who wish to participate or make a contribution may call Mr. Petrone at 452-9292.

Two Title Games Played In Dillon Gym Leagues

The Dillon Youth Basketball season wrapped up play last month with championship games in both the junior and senior divisions.

The regular season results in the junior division saw H. Gross & Co. Outfitters finish with a record of 5 and 0, Mason Griffin & Pierson 4 and 1, Princeton Hardware 3 and 2, Princeton Sports Center 2 and 3, G.R. Murray 1 and 4, and the Princeton Youth Sports, 0 and 5.

After several weeks of playoff upsets and competition the Championship game pitted the Princeton Sports Center against Princeton Hardware. Shahid A. Karim tossed in 20 points to lead Sports Center to a 30-23 win over Princeton Hardware. Luke Kitto and David Westcott combined for 17 points for Hardware.

In the consolation match-up, H. Gross & Co. Outfitters were defeated by Mason, Griffin & Pierson, 45-30. A. Abdul-Aziz scored 11 points and Kip Barros added eight for H. Gross. Ryan Bahoshy and Ted Shoaf were high scorers for the winners.

The senior division final season results had Clancy's Restaurant on top with a record of 4 and 0, followed by last year's champions, Church & Dwight, at 3-1 and Princeton Shopping Center at 2 and 2. Commodities Corporation and Jefferson Plumbing were winless.

However, during the playoffs, upsets and great competition pitted Jefferson Plumbing in the Championship round against Princeton Shopping Center.

N.C. Jefferson Plumbing, the Cinderella team, held Princeton Shopping Center off until the final quarter, when it gave up the lead and PSC pulled off a come-from-behind 45-32 win. Jason Carter came alive in the third quarter and contributed 13 points to his team's win. John Hansell added another 11 points. Brandon McEwen dominated the court and scored 19 points for Jefferson Plumbing.

In a consolation game, Church & Dwight defeated Clancy's Restaurant, 44-38. Tremayne Freeman led all scorers with 16 points while Matt Crusey was not far behind with 14. Foreal Wooten scored 15 points and Eric McEwen 14 for the losers.

Grant for Education To Watershed Ass'n

Church & Dwight Co., Inc. has awarded the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association a $5,000 grant toward its environmental education programs. The grant is in the form of a challenge being used by the Watershed Corporate Advisory Committee to stimulate new support from area businesses and corporations.

In announcing the gift, Watershed Director Jamie Kyte Sapoch stated, "We are very enthusiastic about this gift because it underlines Church & Dwight's strong commitment to a better environmental quality of life within our watershed region. We see environmental education as a way to create a more environmentally 'literate' public to help protect our area's vulnerable natural resources. This gift will be a great support to those efforts."

Gannett Will Publish Campus Telephone Book

Gannett Community Directories of New Jersey has been awarded a five-year contract by Princeton University to publish the Princeton University Campus Telephone Directory. Gannett will provide 14,000 copies for distribution during fall registration each year.

A new feature of the directory is a yellow page section offering information on shops and businesses serving the University community. The yellow pages will be compiled by Gannett Community Directories' Princeton sales office. Contracts for yellow pages listings and display advertising will be administered by Brenton Mulliner, regional sales manager for the Princeton area.

A subsidiary of the Gannett Co., Inc., Gannett Community Directories of New Jersey is an independent yellow page directory publisher. Gannett directory operations include 42 community directories throughout Northern and Central New Jersey, including The Princeton Community Phone Book and The Better Phone Book, and community directories in New York and Florida, and a directory for Northern Illinois University.

Mr. Kober is a graduate of LaSalle University and has 23 years of sales and marketing experience with The PMA Group, along with five years of underwriting experience with The Travelers and Crum & Forester.

Harry J. Kober

Kevin L. Murphy, of Rocky Hill, has joined Weichert Realtors' Princeton office as a sales associate. He is a member of the Mercer County Board of Realtors.

Prior to entering the real estate business, Mr. Murphy held sales and marketing management positions with several major national and international construction management firms.

Blessing/White, a pioneer organizational and employee development firm that was founded in 1973, has merged with another firm in its industry, MOHR Development, Inc., Stamford, Conn., also founded in 1973.

The new company maintains the Blessing/White name and the 900 State Road headquarters. Harry H. Gaines, Blessing/White's president, is the new company's president.

Louise Shenin has been promoted to vice president of Cenlar Federal Savings Bank. She is responsible for implementing trust operations and is currently manager of that department.

Also, C. Denise Vaccaro was promoted to second vice president, security officer.

Rich Abrams, the leading sales associate at Century 21 Carnegie Realty Inc., Princeton, has been inducted into the President's Club of Century 21 of the Northeast.

The club is composed of a select group of top achievers in the firm. Membership candidacy is only open to those sales associates in New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, and Connecticut who are in the top 2 percent of the more than 5,000 sales associates in these states.

The top listing associate award at Fox & Lazo Realtors for February was presented to Lynn Causing of the Princeton office, who listed five units, with a total dollar volume of more than $1.5 million.

Norma Greaves

Norma Greaves of Lawrenceville has been named the January associate of the month in Coldwell Banker Schlott's Princeton office.

She was also honored as a member of the firm's Million Dollar Club for her high sales volume during 1991.

Robin L. Wallack, Jefferson Road, of Peyton Associates Real Estate, has listed and sold properties exceeding $11 Million Dollars during this past year, qualifying for the Gold Award sponsored by the N.J.A.R. One of only three agents in Mercer County to achieve this distinction, it is the third time she has received this award.

A real estate agent for the past ten years, Ms. Wallack is also a licensed broker.

Keri Ellerbroek has been promoted to director of publications for the New Jersey Hospital Association (NJHA).

Ms. Ellerbroek has been with NJHA since 1988 as a senior staff writer. She had earlier served as public affairs coordinator at Recording for the Blind National Headquarters, Princeton.

Janet McClusky, a former Princeton resident, died March 30 at Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Springs, Md. She was 92 and had lived in Princeton from 1951 to 1979, when she moved to the Washington area to be closer to her family.

Born in Oakland, Calif., Mrs. McClusky attended Pomona College and graduated from Park College, Parkville, Mo. She was an educator who was active in scouting in its early development. She ran an experimental Girl Scout camp called Camp Osborn on the New Jersey Palisades and was honored by Mrs. Herbert Hoover for her activities on behalf of the Girl Scouts.

She later worked in Philadelphia at the Presbyterian Church headquarters in the youth education program. There she met her husband, George McClusky, an ordained Presbyterian minister who subsequently worked in government as chief of the priorities board for the WPA and then as chief of manpower for the U.S. sector of Berlin during the post-war occupation.

After her husband died in 1951 she moved to Princeton with her two sons. She became the Central New Jersey representative for Field Enterprises, which sells Childcraft and the World Book encyclopedia. She was a member of First Presbyterian Church during the time the Rev. John Bodo was pastor.

She travelled widely and spent extended periods visiting her sons in Salvador, Bangkok and Senegal. She also developed a keen interest in astronomy, after attending an Adult School course taught by Princeton University professors.

Surviving are her sons, Campbell of Shingle Springs, Calif., and Robert of Bethesda, and three grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, June 20, at Cedar Lane Unitarian Church, Bethesda, Md. Memorial contributions may be made to Cedar Lane Unitarian Church, Bethesda, Md. 20814.

Maria Hastoglis, 90, of Brick, formerly of Princeton, died April 3 at Kimball Medical Center, Lakewood.

Born in Greece, Mrs. Hastoglis lived in Princeton for 61 years before moving to Brick in 1987. She was a member of the Philoptophos Society of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Trenton.

Wife of the late Anastasios A. Hastoglis, she is survived by a daughter, Paula Harmon, with whom she resided; a son, Anthony Hastoglis of Charlottesville, Va.; 10 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The service was held Tuesday at Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Demetrios N. Calogredes, pastor of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, officiating. Memorial contributions may be made to St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Trenton 08619.

Archimede Scarlata, 61, of Mt. Lucas Road, died April 1 at his home.

Born in Trenton, Mr. Scarlata lived in Princeton for 22 years. He was a self-employed painter for 40 years and was associated with Al Taffa in the painting business for 10 years. He was an Army veteran of the Korean War.

Surviving are his wife, Christine M. Terral Scarlata; two sons, Michael A. and Joseph E., both at home; a sister and many nieces and nephews.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Saturday at St. Joachim's Church, Trenton, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery, Hamilton.

Frank C. Silvey, 62, of Plainsboro, died March 29 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Chinook, Mont., Mr. Silvey lived in the Plainsboro area for many years. He was employed by Mobil Research since 1974, where his research and development activities were in the field of fractionation and related process engineering. He previously held positions with the San Francisco Naval Ship Yard, the Goodyear Atomic Corporation, Atomics International Division, N.A. Rockwell, and Fractionation Research, Inc. in California.

He earned a master's degree in chemical engineering from Montana State University and was the recipient of at least four U.S. patents.

The service was held Saturday at a Pennington funeral home, the Rev. David D. Prince officiating. Burial was in Ewing Church Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 3076 Princeton Pike, Lawrence 08648.

Ruth C. Sincak, 81, of Kingston, died April 5 at home. Born in Franklin, she lived in Kingston for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Sincak was a graduate of Boston University and was a captain in the U.S. Army during World War II where she was a physical therapist. She was a lifelong member of Six Mile Run Reformed Church.

Wife of the late Louis Sincak Sr., she is survived by a son, Lewis G. Sincak of Kingston; two daughters, Dorothy L. Edwards of Kingston and Elizabeth Johnson of Jackson; five grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 10 at Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, 40 Vandeventer Avenue, the Rev. David Risseeuw, pastor of Six Mile Run Reformed Church, officiating. Burial will be private.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Cortelyou-Sincak Scholarship Fund, c/o Six Mile Run Reformed Church, Route 27, Franklin Park 08823.

Helene Browning, formerly of Princeton, died March 21 in Clinton, N.Y.

She was born in Passaic, and her early years were spent at the schools in Saranac Lake, N.Y. Later, after secretarial school in New York City, she studied at Columbia University. In 1936 she came to Princeton.

Always a voracious and perceptive reader, she became a librarian at the Princeton University Library and subsequently also, for a short time, at Wake Forest College in North Carolina. She returned to Princeton and the University Library for a number of years during and after World War II. When she and her husband, Professor Robert Browning, went to Hamilton College in Clinton in the 1950s, she became a college librarian there until her retirement after long service.

She is survived by her husband and a brother, Bernhard Ulmer of Princeton.

A memorial service was held in Clinton.

Walter J. Chartier, 84, of Hopewell Township, died March 30 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Elizabeth, he was a Hopewell area resident since 1949.

Mr. Chartier was a founding member and past president of the Hopewell Valley Chorus. He was a trustee, past coordinator of lay readers and a choir member at St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell, and a volunteer driver for F.I.S.H., a service organization founded by Hopewell churches. He was a fourth degree member of Hopewell Council 7103 Knights of Columbus.

He was also chairman of the Hopewell Borough Zoning Board; a trustee of the Hopewell Museum; a trustee of the Princeton Lodge No. 2129 of the B.P.O.E.; past president of the New Jersey Chapter of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security.

He retired in 1973 as assistant director of the N.J. State Department of Labor and Industry Division of Planning and Research. He received Boss of the Year Award in Mercer County in 1967 and 1968 from the Trenton Chapter of the Secretaries Association.

Husband of the late Marie Flynn, who died in 1984, he is survived by his wife, Ruth Larson Chartier; a son, Walter J. Chartier Jr.; two brothers, Alexander Chartier of Lakewood and Arthur Chartier of Clifton.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Friday at 10 at St. Alphonsus Church with burial in St. Alphonsus Cemetery.

Palm Sunday & Holy Week Services Set by Area Churches

Palm Sunday, commemorating the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, is this Sunday, followed by Holy Week marking the events leading up to his crucifixion, burial and resurrection. Area churches have planned special services on Palm Sunday and into Holy Week.

The Princeton University Chapel will begin Holy Week with an outdoor procession of the palms led by the Chapel Choir on Sunday at 11. The Rev. William C. Gipson, assistant dean of the Chapel, will be the preacher.

The Rev. Christine Caton of the Wesley-Westminster Chaplaincy will lead a Maundy Thursday Service on Thursday, April 16, at 9 p.m. The University Chapel, Aquinas Institute, Baptist Chaplaincy, Episcopal Church at Princeton, Lutheran Concordia Society and Wesley-Westminster Chaplaincy will co-sponsor a Good Friday service on April 17 from noon to 3.

The service, based on "The Seven Last Words," is divided into segments so that members of the congregation may enter and leave as their schedules dictate. There will be another opportunity to worship at the University Chapel at 8 p.m. on Good Friday at a Tenebrae Service of Shadows, readings and silence. Curtis Lasell, principal University organist, will be the accompanist for all of these sevices.

The Rev. Mr. Gipson will be the homilist at a service for Holy Communion on Easter, April 19, at 8 a.m. Dean Joseph C. Witliamson will preach at the Easter Festival Service at 11 a.m. Mr. Lasell will be the organist at both services. Members of the community are welcome to the services.

Bulletin Notes

The Chapel Choir and the Seminary Singers of Princeton Theological Seminary will present a concert of Lenten music from England, France, Germany and America on Friday evening at 8:15 in Miller Chapel on the Seminary campus.

Under the direction of David A. Weadon, C.F. Seabrook Director of Music at the Seminary, the choirs will perform works by Bach, Durufle, Schutz, Farrant, Thompson, Howells and Wesley. The singers will also offer arrangements of several spirituals and a setting of the well-known Lenten hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

The concert is free of charge and open to the public. For further information call 497-7890.

"The JFK Assassination" will be the topic for the United Methodist Men's Breakfast on Sunday at 8:15 in the Princeton Theological Seminary private dining room. George O'Donnell will be the speaker. Mr. O'Donnell is a graduate of Rider College who has been studying and researching the Kennedy assassination for more than 20 years and has compiled an extensive personal library on the topic.

Reservations must be made by April 9 by calling the church office at 924-2613.

Joel Roth, professor of Talmud at the Jewish Theological Seminary and chair of the Rabbinical Assembly's Committee on Jewish Law and Standards, will speak on "Women and the Mitzot: An Example of the Process of Halakhic Change" Sunday at 7:30 at the Jewish Center. The lecture is sponsored by the Adult Jewish Studies Institute of the Jewish Center.

Prof. Roth is a former dean of the Rabbinical School and author of The Halakhic Process: A Systematic Analysis. A fee of $3 is requested for nonmembers. For further information call the Jewish Center, 921-0100.

The Blawenburg Reformed Church will hold its annual Rummage Sale Thursday and Friday from 10 to 3. On Saturday, from 8 to 11, rummage and bric-a-brac will be $3 a bag or half price, whichever is less. There will be a special Better Clothing section and White Elephants collectibles as well as bake sale items and coffee.

As an enticement to those who work, the church will offer "It's in the Bag" lunches Thursday and Friday that can be taken back to work after shopping. Lunch will include a chef's salad, rye roll, grapes and a drink for $4.

For information call 466-3108.

Nassau Christian Center will present The Living Last Supper on Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18, at 7:30. Through drama and music, the artistry and humanity of Leonardo da Vinci's painting of The Last Supper will seem to come alive. The thoughts and emotions of the 12 disciples as each one contemplates the news that one of them will betray the Savior will be highlighted.

Admission is free. For more information call 921-0981.

Montgomery Evangelical Free Church of Belle Mead will present the New York Staff Band and the Sydney Staff Songsters of the Salvation Army on Saturday, April 18, at 7:30. The two groups will present a program of marches, hymn tunes, classical and original pieces.

The community is invited. A free will offering will be received. Call the church office at (908) 874-4634 for additional information.

The junior choir of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Princeton Junction will present the cantata "Welcome the King" by Hal Hopson during the 11 a.m. service on Palm Sunday. Music director Kwanli Tsang will conduct.

Pastors Gregg Kaufman and Dawn Silvius will preach and lead the services at both the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

Temple Micah, Liberal Reform Congregation in Lawrenceville, will hold a pre-Passover celebration this Friday evening.

Rabbi Ellen Greenspan will lead the service, joined by Cantor Alfred Beck. Barbara Anderman will host the Oneg Shabbat in honor of the Bar Mitzvah of her son Thomas on Saturday.

Temple Micah services are held at 8 p.m. in the upstairs chapel at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church and are open to the public. For additional information write Temple Micah, P.O. Box 6355, Lawrenceville 08648 or call 921-1128.

The spring rummage sale sponsored by the Montgomery United Methodist Church women will take place Friday from 9 to 4 and Saturday from 9 to 2. On Saturday, one may purchase a bag of clothing for $2.

For more information, call the church office at (908) 874-3273.

The Sanctuary Choir of Griggstown Reformed Church will present David T. Clydesdale's cantata, How Great Thou Art Sunday at 4 at the church as part of its 150th anniversary celebration.

Also participating will be the choir from St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Milltown, and members of the choirs from the Blawenburg Reformed Church and the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill. A free will offering will be received, and a soup and sandwich supper will follow the performance.

For information call the church office mornings at (908) 359-3604,

Kingston United Methodist Church will holds its first annual Spring Fling-Rummage and Craft Sale Saturday from 9 to 3, rain or shine. Household goods, toys, books and clothing will be on sale to benefit the church building expansion fund and children's programs. For information call 921-6812.

The Women's Division of The Jewish Center of Princeton is offering tickets to a performance of a music drama about the life of Raoul Wallenberg, Another Kind of Hero, on Sunday, May 17, at 2 at the Walnut Street Theater, Walnut and 8th Streets, Philadelphia.

The tickets are orchesta and lower mezzanine seats offered at a discounted price of $25 each. Transportation is not being offered. The deadline for ticket purchase is Wednesday, April 15. Call 275-9656 for further information.

A BIT OF PRINCETON HISTORY

In 1903 The Princeton Charter Club purchased this Prospect Avenue house for its first permanent home. It was redesigned and enlarged under the direction of club member and architect David Adler who earned fame during the "great house" period for his work located primarily along Chicago's North Shore. In 1913 Mr. Edwin M. Norris who ran the Princeton University Press purchased this house and moved it by horsepower across farmlands north of Nassau Street to Cleveland Lane, a new neighborhood of fine homes including that of President-elect Woodrow Wilson. This gracious and well proportioned residence has ample living and bedroom space for an active family. In the heart of Princeton, a broad back veranda overlooks garden and pool. Please give us a call so we may tell you about its more recent history.

CALTON HOMES

Getting into Princeton is as easy as moving to Washington Oaks!

Join the hundreds of homeseekers who are making Washington Oaks the place to be in Princeton Township.

The Oaks

2-bedroom garden homes with one-level living. From $119,990 to $139,990.

The Groves

2 & 3-bedroom luxury townhomes. From $180,990 to $197,990.

Washington Oaks isn't just in Princeton Township, it's smack dab in the heart of it... just minutes from the Governor's Mansion, Princeton University and Palmer Square.

And Washington Oaks is a masterplanned community that has been years in preparation, meticulously designed to preserve the site's historic and environmental integrity.

But best of all, Washington Oaks makes Princeton affordable to practically everyone... from "The Oaks" for first-time homebuyers on a budget, to "The Estates" for growing families with school-age children, to "The Arbors" or "The Groves" for couples looking for a maintenance-free lifestyle. These homes come in a variety of designs that range from garden-style plans with one-level of living and 2-story townhomes to magnificent 4-bedroom single-family homes.

Do you want your kids to attend Princeton's schools? Want to shop on Nassau Street, see plays at MacCarter Theatre and catch the New York City train at Princeton Junction? Want to live in a community with bike and jogging trails, tennis courts, playgrounds and lots of green open spaces?

Move to Washington Oaks!

The Arbors

2, 3 & 4-bedroom luxury townhomes. From $184,990 to $240,990.

The Estates

Handsome stone gates guard the entrance to the exclusive enclave of "Landfall" in nearby Lawrenceville with a Princeton address. Four years young and much better than new, this charming house of light sienna brick awaits a new owner who will appreciate its location, construction, custom details and delightful decor. A sheltered entry leads to an inviting foyer. Pleasant light-filled rooms are enhanced by the light hardwood flooring, lofty ceilings, massive moldings, three handsome fireplaces and six French doors opening to a brick terrace and a secluded garden. The living room is gracious, the dining room formal, the library delightful and the kitchen superb. Also on the first floor — a luxurious master bedroom with glamorous bathroom and cozy fireplace. On the second floor, three spacious bedrooms, one with private bath, and a family bath. A truly special house! New price $795,000

"APPLEWOOD"

AT THE WESTERN EDGE OF PRINCETON, in north Lawrence, you will find one of those special houses that is known to almost everyone who passes that way. Completed just at the beginning of the Great Depression, "Applewood House" was finely crafted and beautifully designed. The current owners have taken a superb house, expanded and modernized it in total harmony with the original. There is a straight-through center hall flanked by four living areas. Beyond the main living room is a new garden room and at the other end of the house an absolutely wonderful country kitchen with Aga stove and many special European touches. There are five full baths, three half baths and eight bedrooms, including a fabulous new master suite with high-ceilinged bedroom and marvelous dressing and bath area. There is a four-car garage, beautiful swimming pool... an unmatched way of life offered at.....$1.9 million

PRINCETON JUNIOR SCHOOL

Does your child feel this way?

In our school we are good
And our desks are made of wood.
My desk is not a place to rest
It's a place to work my best.
Magic book I like to do -
Multiply I like too
Daniel Rochford II

Small classes for 2½ year olds through Grade IV including curricula for the gifted.

We believe that academic excellence later in life is largely due to an enthusiasm for learning inspired during the early years when a child's motivation is high and his/her chances for success are good. Students in our program in no way leave childhood behind for the sole purpose of intellectual growth. Rather, they celebrate the special gifts of their age: curiosity, flexibility, spontaneity, will, and wonder.

We do not discriminate against race, color or creed.

Salmon-hued brick from Virginia gives this stately Manor house singular distinction and beauty. The elegant design is rich with exquisite appointments and special details. On over two acres in Princeton's western section, the grounds are enhanced by tall pines, sweeping lawns, brick and concrete balustrades, and a large flagstone terrace overlooking the tennis/guest house and tennis court. The elegant interior spaces feature parquet floors, high ceilings with crown mouldings, arched double doorways, custom egg and dart decorative panels, and an antique, carved marble mantel. Long French doors provide views to the terrace and lawns. With 5,577 square feet, five bedrooms, formal and informal living and dining areas, the floor plan accommodates lively family activity and more formal entertaining. $1,490,000

Daffodil Hill at Brooks Bend!

Some say it's the prettiest house in Princeton!

This magnificent Country French house offers privacy without isolation, affluence without pretense, and beauty without compromise. William M. Thompson, A.I.A., a long-established architect in the Princeton area, ingeniously used an old world plan specifically devised for the largest lot in BROOKS BEND to incorporate all of today's amenities with the flavor and beautiful tranquility of the past. Almost eight acres of woods have been carefully embellished by the first loving owners with glorious plantings! Oaks, pines and willows sensitively integrate with azaleas, rhododendrons, fruit trees, rose bushes and a classic courtyard. The interior is as charming as you might imagine, and the generously proportioned main rooms (with four elegant fireplaces) are ideal for grand receptions to simple family gatherings! Please call Peggy Henderson at (609) 921-9300 to preview this timely offering.
